Bay St. Louis police led on chase through Cedar Point

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

Two armed robbery suspects were behind bars Thursday following a high speed chase and woods search, according to Bay St. Louis Deputy Police Chief Dave Stepro.

Arrested and charged with armed robbery were Christopher Jerome Keys, 28, and Mushin McDowell, 23, both of the Picayune area. Bond was set at $15,000 for Keys and $10,000 for McDowell, Stepro said.

"At approximately 6:50 a.m., we received a 911 call reporting the armed robbery," Stepro said. "The clerk at the Gas and Go convenience store, Highway 90 at Second Street, gave a good description of the vehicle, which was spotted on the service lane by an officer. The officer gave chase with the suspects turning on Dunbar Avenue in the Cedar Point area. The chase ended as they turned on a dead end street and crashed the vehicle."

"The clerk said a handgun was pointed at him and a demand of money was given. The clerk responded by giving the money."

"As they exited the vehicle, one of the suspects pointed what appeared to be a weapon toward the officer. The officer, because of the circumstances, fired two shots at the suspect as they fled into the woods."

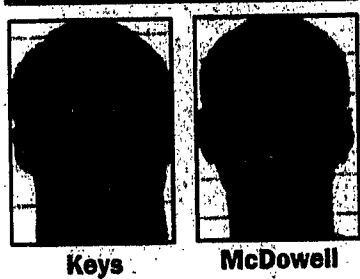

Stepro said the arrests were the result of a multi-agency effort.

"Our officers were given tremendous support from Waveland Police, the Hancock County Sheriff's office, Mississippi State Troopers and Bureau of

A large section of Bay St. Louis' Cedar Point area was flooded with law enforcement officers Thursday morning, following an armed robbery of a Highway 90 business. One robbery suspect was captured a couple of hours later, while a second was nabbed later in the evening, according to Bay Deputy Police Chief Dave Stepro.

Koskan selected Moonlight on Bay honoree

Dr. Irene Koskan

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Internal Medicine Specialist Irene Koskan of Waveland will be honored at the Hancock Medical Center Foundation's Moonlight on the Bay gala Friday, September 10.

The ninth annual dinner dance will be hosted at the Bay St. Louis Casino Magic's Cypress Cove Ballroom. A sell-out event is anticipated, according to organizer Janet McQueen.

Known for dedication to her patients, Dr. Koskan has been on the Hancock Medical Center staff for 23 years. She and her husband, Ophthalmologist Allan Koskan, chose to make Waveland their home after practicing in other areas.

She is a graduate of George Washington University and attended medical school in her parents' native country of Greece. She completed a residency in internal medicine at Tulane Medical School and practiced emergency medicine at Touro Infirmary in New Orleans and Memorial Hospital at Gulfport.

A past queen of Nereids carnival association, Dr. Koskan also served on the Bay-Waveland School Board and remains active in the Greek Orthodox Church.

The Koskans have two daughters, Maria and Alexis.

Moonlight on the Bay features a silent auction highlighting donations by local artists, businesses and individuals. John "Chappy" Chapman will conduct a first-time limited live auction at the event, featuring vacation trips to Big Sky, Montana and New York City, as well as dinner for eight prepared in his home. Guests can dance till midnight to music by "Witness." For more information, call (228) 467-8790.

Dolphin discovered

A dead dolphin floated in on the tide Saturday morning on the beach at Carroll Avenue, Bay St. Louis. Patrol Cpl. John Mitchell watches as Jeff Siegel, Marine Life Oceanarium director of Operations, Education and Programs, checks dead dolphin. Siegel estimated the dolphin had been dead for about three weeks. He collected measurements and samples of the animal to be passed on for tests to try to determine the reason for the death. Bay police also notified the Department of Marine Resources to remove the animal.

Hancock Co. Republican Women's Club to meet

The next regular Meeting of the Hancock County Republican Women's Club will be held on Thursday, 2 September at 11 a.m. at the Bay St. Louis Library, on Highway 90.

This Meeting WILL NOT be held at Bush-Cheney Headquarter's as previously announced.

Everyone is invited by the club members to attend a Fall Fundraising Festival & Silent Auction the evening of Friday, Sept. 24 from 6-9 p.m. at the Diamondhead Community Center. There will be an open wine bar, plus refreshments donated by club members!

The entrance donation for the evening is $10 per person. Fifty percent of the proceeds from the Silent Auction will be given to Hope Haven. The remaining proceeds will be given to local Republican Candidates.

As a strictly, non-partisan, "Caring For America" project, Women's Club members will be on hand from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Diamondhead Supermarket on Saturday the 4th, the 11th, and the 18th of September for Hancock County Voter Registration. Regardless of party, all new residents in Hancock County must be registered in order to vote in the national election on Nov. 2. People who have just turned 18 years old are especially urged to register.

At the Fund Raising Festival on Sept. 24, the drawing for the winner of the club's annual $500 Beau Rivage Gift Certificate Raffle will be held at 8:30 p.m.; however those who have purchased raffle tickets DO NOT have to be present to win.

MsET to celebrate 10 years with trade show and evening reception

THE SEA COAST ECHO
The Mississippi Enterprise for Technology (MsET) at Stennis Space Center will celebrate its tenth year in existence with a trade show and evening reception. This free event takes place Sept. 1 at Casino Magic in Bay St. Louis. The day begins at 6 a.m. with the live broadcast of the Super Dave and Donna Show from Coast 102FM, and ends with a cocktail reception at 6 p.m. Past and present MsET tenant companies will exhibit their services and expertise from 8 a.m. - 8 p.m. This promises to be an excellent opportunity to network with high-tech and Geospatial companies on the Gulf Coast.

MsET is a joint effort of the Mississippi Development Authority, NASA and Mississippi Institutions of higher learning with the charter of creating high-skill, high-wage jobs in Mississippi. Its resources include Mississippi's colleges and universities, Stennis Space Center and access to other federal laboratories across the United States. MsET has also operated a full-service incubator facility since 1994 to assist fledgling, technology-based companies.

Prenatal classes offered at Hancock Medical Expectant parents and their guests are invited to attend a free series of childbirth classes sponsored by Hancock Medical Center.

Preparation for the birthing experience, including anesthesia options and stages of labor, will be the focus of classes September 2, 9 and 16 from 7 until 8:30 p.m. in the HMC Business and Education Complex.

Further instruction focuses on nutrition, physical changes during pregnancy and preparation for breastfeeding. Breathing relaxation techniques and alternatives for labor management are also taught. The classes culminate with a segment on infant care.

Materials pertaining to the topics are distributed at each class. Breastfeeding instruction and support is offered for new mothers who plan to breastfeed. The next class will be Thursday, September 23.

Registration is required by calling 467-8727.

Mississippi Reads set at Kiln Library

THE SEA COAST ECHO
The Kiln Public Library is the site for Mississippi Reads, a statewide reading program of the Mississippi Library Commission Center for the Book.

The program is designed to encourage all Mississippians to read and discuss the same book during 2004.

The program is set for Thursday, September 2, at 11:45 a.m. at the Kiln Public Library as part of the Hancock County Library's Authors & Characters @ Your Library series.

The selected book, Girl in Hyacinth Blue, by Susan Vreeland, complements The Glory of Baroque Dresden exhibit currently on display in Jackson through September 6. The book shares the same historical theme and period of the Baroque era, and offers many opportunities for learning through history, art and literature.

Facilitator for the program is Leah Holmes, who taught at St. Stanislaus High School in Bay St. Louis for seven years. She is currently teaching in Poplarville, and studying for her Ph.D. in British Literature. Holmes will engage attendees in a discussion of the book.

Topics include the function of the painting for each character, how the characters of women and girls change through the centuries and what the books say about the joys and difficulties of being an artist. Participants interested in Mississippi Reads can obtain a copy of the book before the program by calling Jamie Elston or Mary Perkins at 467-5282.

The program includes lunch for $5 with advance reservations.

To reserve your spot or obtain more information on the program, contact Jamie Elston at 467-5282.

Mississippi Reads is made possible by a grant to the Mississippi Library Commission from the Mississippi Humanities Council and partnerships with the Mississippi Commission for International Cultural Exchange, Inc., and Friends of Mississippi Libraries, Inc.

Cuevas' Quotes

by Ellis C. Cuevas
Publisher Emeritus

Get ready for the best Wave Fest ever!

The recent renovations to our Hancock County Courthouse have really made a big difference for courts and Board of Supervisors meetings.

With all the improvements, I have been reminded about something our county leaders may want to try to address.

Whenever court is being held, or a grand jury is in session, there are some folks who are called upon to be witnesses, etc., and have to wait outside a courtroom for their turns to testify.

There appears to be no seating spaces provided with the exception of the steps, which is really not good for elderly folks.

Could not some benches or chairs be available for these folks when courts are in session?

Whenever court is out, the benches, or chairs could be stored for future use.

This problem is something our county leaders may want to consider.

And in a few days, the long Labor Day weekend will be here, meaning the end to many summer vacations. As always, our area has been as long as I can remember, a Labor Day weekend destination for many visitors. As a youngster, the talk around the Town of Waveland was that the town could 'roll up the sidewalk' the Tuesday following Labor Day.

Things have really changed, as activities continue throughout the year for the now City of Waveland and surrounding areas.

In celebration of the long Labor Day weekend, the Fourth annual 'Wave Fest' is set for Sunday, September 5.

Coleman Avenue will really come alive with special activities from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. next Sunday.

The Coleman Avenue Coalition and City of Waveland has been busy for months in preparation for the many activities.

Of course, the Coleman Avenue area merchants play an important role too.

There will be all types of entertainment, a 5K run, Antique car show, live bands, arts and crafts, food and beverage booths, children's games and rides, sand sculpting contest, a raffle, in addition to merchants with sidewalk sales and much more.

So, don't forget the big 'Wave Fest' next Sunday on Coleman Avenue, Waveland.

FOOTBALL "NEWS"

Editor's note: Noted Mississippi editorial cartoonist, Ricky Nobile, has created a coloring book for The Partnership for A Healthy Mississippi to help educate students in grades K-6 about the adverse health effects of tobacco use. The 12-page coloring book enlists animal characters created by Nobile to help communicate important health messages on a level all young children can understand and embrace. The Partnership ordered an initial printing of 10,000 copies, which are now available free of charge to students in grades K-6 through The Partnership's Educational Resource Center at 877-303-8372. A celebrated editorial cartoonist in Mississippi since 1971 Nobile's work appears in 35 newspapers around the state, including, the Sea Coast Echo. Having previously created coloring books for several universities, museums and associations to be used, in promotions, he figured the time was right to create one aimed at helping children in Mississippi and their families improve their quality of health. "It's a great feeling any time you can use your talents to, positively impact the lives of others - particularly children," said Nobile. "If one child's quality of health is enhanced by this book, it was worth the effort." "Ricky Nobile's tremendous contribution symbolizes the commitment that Mississippians of all ages have made to ensure the success of our healthy lifestyle message," said Sandra Shelton executive, director of The Partnership. According to Shelton, since its inception in 1998, The Partnership has established a strong community level presence throughout the entire state that involves teachers, school nurses, community leaders and other volunteers such as Nobile - each willing to do their part to help further tobacco prevention efforts across Mississippi. As a result, the state's middle school smoking rate has been reduced by 47 percent to date since 1999. Additionally, retail sales of tobacco products to underage teens in Mississippi are the lowest of any state in the U.S. at a mere 3.8 percent.

Higher gas prices, U.S. dependency on foreign oil becoming serious issues

We say we're upset by gasoline prices. We complain because it costs $30 dollars to fill up our car or perhaps $40 or even $50 to fill up our truck. But do we really care about the country's dependence on foreign oil? Are we really serious about reducing our dependency? Apparently not. In recent months it seems we've come to accept $1.80 and $2 per gallon fuel prices. Unless America wakes up and adopts a national energy policy, we're going to see increases at the pump again and again until one day Congress and citizens alike will be forced to make a sudden, sobering change in the way America lives, works and travels.

A few weeks ago a Mississippi reporter asked me, "Senator, wouldn't you say that given the talk about energy policy today that Jimmy Carter was ahead of his time?" Now that wasn't a real serious question about energy policy in 2004, but rather an attempt to spruce up a presidency that ended 25 years ago - one I presume was personally fancied by the writer. Still, I'm not getting many serious questions about energy from constituents concerned about energy prices anymore. The trivial treatment of the energy issue by the press, public and politicians concerns me because, outside of fighting terrorism, this is the most serious national security issue Americans face. It seems we've slipped into another period of denial which will last until gas prices hit $2.50 or $3 per gallon. Then what will we do?

Folks, we've got to do better than just have half-hearted, periodic, pie-in-the-sky talks about energy policy. We've got to act.

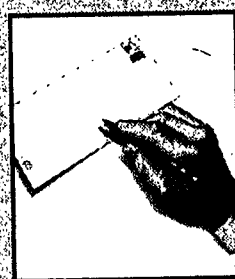

The energy policy plan that Congress has been trying to pass for several years doesn't resemble anything Jimmy Carter or anyone else proposed in the 1970s, and it shouldn't. That was a different time, and America was a different place. Since then, we've devised ways to find and retrieve oil and natural gas with little environmental risk. We've made our cars, air-conditioners and refrigerators more efficient and environmentally friendly.

Emissions have been cut dramatically to the point where a vehicle today exhausts only a tiny fraction of the hydrocarbons produced by autos of the 1960s or '70s. Fuel cells are advancing rapidly. Auto companies are beginning to offer not only hybrid cars, but also hybrid trucks that run on both gas and electric power. But, even with the advances, our economy has grown and so has energy

Our letters policy

The Sea Coast Echo welcomes comments from its readers. Letters must be signed and include address or telephone number. Letters should be brief, preferably typewritten and double-spaced. consumption. We're not going to slow down our economy. We don't have to accept a lower standard of living. We simply must take the issue seriously and adopt a real energy plan.

Unlike any previous energy proposal, the energy bill before the Senate recognizes that reducing America's dependence on foreign oil must include a multi-faceted or what I call "whole package" approach. It contains incentives for more modern, clean energy exploration, particularly in the U.S. where we're not beholden to the politics of a hostile nation. And, it provides incentives for alternative energy technologies like wind and solar power. It sounds sensible because it is. However, even though the plan is solid, its chance are 50-50.

Some folks in Congress still are not serious about energy policy because a majority of Americans don't seem to be concerned.

Members of Congress make idealistic floor speeches about how they want less dependency on foreign oil, but they're not very realistic. It seems they oppose any type of new domestic production. Whether it's proposed for Alaska or the Gulf of Mexico, they simply resist any type of traditional energy exploration or usage, even if it poses little risk. That's got to change. America must become energy independent with an energy policy that simultaneously employs every resource and technical skill we have available in the 21st Century. Outside of fighting terrorism, energy policy is the most daunting issue facing our country.

We're either going to realize the seriousness of our dependence now and deal with it, or put it off until it deals with us. We can have both a clean environment and affordable energy if we really want it. So what will it be America?

Young Writers

Author Margaret McMullan and the class.

Pass Christian Public Library Young Writer's Workshop

The Pass Christian Public Library sponsored a Young Writer's Workshop on Thursday, July 1st from 10:30a.m.-12p.m. and Friday, July 2 in the conference room of the library. This creative writing workshop for children ages 12-16 was taught by author and educator Margaret McMullan.

McMullan is the author of the novels "In My Mother's House" and "When Warhol Was Still Alive." Her young adult book "How I Found the Strong" was published this spring. Her work has appeared in such publications as "Glamour"; "The Chicago Tribune" and "Michigan Quarterly Review", among others. She was nominated for a Pushcart Prize in 2001 and twice she received the Individual Artist Fellowship from the Indiana Arts Commission and the National Endowment for the Arts. She is currently professor and chair of the English department at the University of Evansville in Evansville, Indiana. She resides in Evansville with her husband and son. McMullan was born in Newton County, Mississippi, near Smith County, which is where her latest book "How I Found the Strong" is set.

Fifteen young adults took advantage of the program. Three adults also sat in on the workshop. McMullan helped the children to analyze a subject from different angles. They also explored the concept of "add-on" stories (each person adds a sentence to a story).

Auditions for 'The Exonerated'

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Olde Towne Players will hold auditions for "The Exonerated" at 7 p.m. Sept. 8 and 9 at the depot in Bay St. Louis.

The play, based primarily on interviews, police reports and court transcripts, tells the true story of five people convicted of murder, sentenced to death row and later exonerated after lengthy court battles by attorneys who believed that the American justice system was flawed.

Subsequently, the play was taken to Off Broadway where many celebrity actors, including Peter Coyote and Aiden Quinn, have had guest roles.

Co-directors Becky Rotundo and Nan Ehrbright need about a dozen actors for the play, scheduled for late fall production.

"The Exonerated" is a readers' theatre vehicle, which means actors read their lines -- no necessity to memorize, thus a short rehearsal schedule.

For details, call 467-5563.

First 'I'm A Star' Honor to be awarded Monday

THE SEA COAST ECHO
The first recipient of the Hancock County Tourism Development Bureau's "I'm A Star" award will be honored Monday, August 30.

The Tourism Bureau will publicly recognize individual citizens of Hancock County who quietly or loudly promote the area and tourism. The first award goes to a person who has demonstrated the true meaning of "hospitality" or to our visitors.

The top rating received through a visitor profile study conducted recently, reported that the friendliness of the people was at the top of the list for positive experiences by tourists who visit Hancock County, and Kayci Murphree is definitely one of the friendliest.

She has offered a cool place to rest, refreshments, conversation and even transportation back to the visitors hotel. Many local residents, officials, and business people quickly recommended this very deserving person for this award.

The Cup Filler, a coffee/cafe shop on Court Street, Bay St. Louis, is the luck business which employs Murphree and will be able to display the official "I'm A Star" sign in the front of its business, which will certainly attract more business and hospitality opportunities.

DMR seeks oyster industry input at public meeting

THE SEA COAST ECHO
The Mississippi Department of Marine Resources (DMR) Shellfish Bureau will hold a public meeting Monday, August 30, 2004 at 6 p.m. at the Hancock County Civic Center, 3068 Longfellow Drive in Bay St. Louis. The meeting is designed to seek input from commercial fishermen and seafood processors in the Mississippi oyster industry.

This informal meeting will give participants an opportunity to provide input regarding the upcoming oyster season and the Mississippi Shellfish Program.

For more information, contact Rita Duvernay at the DMR at (228) 374-5022, ext. 5068.

Rocks rout Eagles 42-7

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The St. Stanislaus Rocks wasted no time in tallying their first win of the 2004 season. On a muggy Friday night, the Rocks wore down the Eagles of St. John with hit after punishing hit in a 42-7 rout in between the walls' at the Brother Philip Memorial Athletic Complex.

While the Rocks' highly touted defense, led by their linebacking corps, gave up more yards than head coach Casey Wittmann would have liked, they answered the call when they had to. The Rocks' offense looked crisp in the first half under the direction of junior Lance Cuevas.

SSC took the ball first and wasted no time getting on the scoreboard. Four plays into the 2004 season, Cuevas scored from three yards out with 9:44 left in the opening quarter. Bryce Morreale booted the PAT to make the score 7-0. Cuevas' sneak was set up by a 49-yard pass play to Stefan Sofianos.

St. John mounted a 10-play drive that started at their own three yardline; however, in the end the Eagles had no points to show for it.

The Eagles' junior running back Antonio Hayes ripped off a 42-yard run in the middle of the drive and had three carries for 54 yards on the drive; however, he netted just two yards on six more carries in the game.

The Rocks put the clamps on Hayes and the rest of the running game for the Eagles led by Lee Klein, Mike Cure, Mike Deifik and many others on St. John's first drive.

The Rocks got the ball back after the Eagles turned it over on downs.

It took SSC eight plays on their second drive but the result was the same - touchdown.

Cuevas hit Floyd Dedeaux for a 29-yard gain on the first play. He followed that up with two 22-yard scrambles of his own for Rock first downs.

On the final play of the drive, Cuevas connected with Sofianos for a 10-yard score with :48 left in the opening quarter. Morreale connected on the PAT to make the score 14-0.

St. John put together an 11-play drive highlighted by Paul Roberts' 34-yard pass to Jacob Mattina. But, the Eagles could not muster the break-away play as Caleb McQueen and Mike Cure kept the pressure on the Eagles.

St. John lined up to punt the ball away to the Rocks at midfield and Dedeaux broke through to block the punt. The Rocks took over at the Eagle 23 yardline.

Josh Duplessis needed only one play to score as he juked his way 23 yards to the endzone with 7:01 left in the first half. Morreale made the score 21-0 with the PAT.

SSC held St. John to three and out on the next possession. Following the Eagle punt, SSC took over on their own 29 yardline. Cuevas followed up an incomplete pass attempt with a 71-yard scoring strike to Mike Cure with 4:38 left in the half. Morreale added the PAT to make the score 28-0 at half-time.

The Eagles received the ball to start the second half of play. Lee Klein let the Eagles know that there was still a whole half to play with a thundering hit on Paul Roberts and sack the quarterback for a four-yard loss. The hit forced an Eagle punt that was blocked by Brennen Thomas and recovered by Dedeaux who returned it three yards for the Rock score. Morreale made the score 35-0 with the PAT at 10:44 left in the third quarter.

The two teams traded possessions before St. John got the ball back and made their most productive drive of the night.

The Eagles mounted a 10-play scoring drive that resulted in a 16-yard scoring pass from Jordan Salloum to Jacob Mattina with 11:47 left to play in the game.

The two teams began running their second-teamers in the game to allow the younger players the opportunity for some valuable playing time. The two squads traded possessions before SSC got the ball back and the Rocks' junior varsity offense scored the final touchdown of the night.

Chad Boos called his own number and scored on a 16-yard run with 3:12 left to play in the game. Morreale kicked the PAT to make the final score 42-7. Boos' score was set up by a 15-yard run by Eric Lichenstein.

David Grapusa ended St. John's last shot at the endzone when he intercepted an Eagle pass and returned the pigskin to the Eagle 3-yardline.

SSC head coach Casey Wittmann stated, "St. John gave a valiant effort tonight. It became a numbers thing and the heat really added to it. There were very few penalties on both teams and I thought we executed well. It was a good first game. We have a huge game coming up next week against Oak Grove on the road. We have a tremendous amount of work to do to get ready for them."

Cuevas led the Rock attack with 161 yards passing on 5-for-8 passing with two touchdowns. He also carried the ball four times for 48 yards and a score. The leading rusher for SSC was Josh Duplessis with 69 yards on four carries and a score.

Lee Klein had a team high 17 total tackles in the game including a quarterback sack.

The Rocks hit the road next Friday to take on the Oak Grove Warriors who defeated Petal on Friday night. Oak Grove will open their new stadium against SSC at 7:30pm in Hattiesburg. Last season, Oak Grove defeated the Rocks 30-0.

Pass suffers 30-0 shut-out

BY STEVE SMITH
Contributing Writer

Pass Christian High School opened regular season play Friday night at Perkinston against Stone County losing 30 to 0 despite a strong effort. Coach Kelly Causey fielded a team that included many standouts from last year's squad including Brandon Riley, Fred Wiley, Justin Furby and Brandon Miller. Chad Moore, who had limited playing last season, started at quarterback and proved capable of running the offense.

Pass High's Pirates were able to hold Stone County's Tomcats scoreless through the first quarter with a strong defensive effort led by Chad Doucet, Brandon Riley and Jaren Bowser, but the Tomcats got rolling in the second period.

Starting from their own 13 yardline after a Pirate punt, Stone's quarterback O'Shea Martin directed an 87-yard drive that combined his own running and passing with the running of Schuyler Huff. Taking a handoff from Martin at the 35 yardline, Huff exploded off left tackle and rambled into the endzone with 8:26 left to play in the second quarter. Tommy Sanders' PAT kick was good and the Tomcats led 7 to 0.

Donavan Fairley returned the kickoff to the 16 yardline and the Pirates moved upfield on tough running by Jaren Bowser but were forced to punt, giving the Tomcats possession at their 41 yardline. After a 15-yard gain by Huff, O'Shea Martin ripped through the line for 44 yards, scampering into the endzone with 5:11 left in the half. The PAT kick was blocked and the Tomcats led 13 to 0.

Fairley returned the kickoff to the 18 yardline and the Pirates were off and running, with Bowser, Fairley and Moore ripping the turf for huge chunks of yardage and Brandon Riley adding a key reception. A holding call on the Pirates stalled the drive and a blocked punt recovered and run for a touchdown by Tomcat Cody Powell put the Pirates behind 21 to 0 after a successful two point conversion.

Fairley returned the kickoff to the 30 yardline but an illegal block infraction set them back to the 19 yardline. Two illegal procedure calls set the Pirates back further and a punt snap over the kickers head nearly doomed the Pirates. Time expired in the first half with the Tomcats in possession at the Pirate 3 yardline.

After a superb Halftime show by the each school's band play resumed with the Pirates returning the kickoff to the 20 yardline. Fairley, showing great determination, blasted through the Tomcat line for a gain of 13 yards, but Bowser lost the handle on the next play and the Tomcats capitalized with Martin scoring from the 13 yardline with 8:03 left in the third quarter. The PAT failed and the Tomcats led 27 to 0. After another Pirate possession ended with a fumble, the Tomcats added a field goal by Tommy Sanders to round out the scoring at 30 to 0.

The Pirates will need to eliminate the errors that led to numerous penalties and improve the kicking game as they warm up for their district schedule against Long Beach and St. John at home before they travel to Bay St. Louis on September 17 for the first of six consecutive district games.

Nightmare start of football season for Hancock Hawks

BY DWAYNE BREMER
Contributing Writer

Friday night's long-awaited start of the 2004 football season could have waited another week, as far as the Hancock Hawks were concerned. The Hawks showed a lot of heart and effort in the game, but the scoreboard was not so pretty, as the Hawks were clubbed 43-7 by the Long Beach Bearcats.

"I appreciated the effort of the kids, they never gave up," said Hawks head coach Walt Esslinger.

The Hawks were their own worst enemy Friday night, as five first half turnovers turned a close game into a rout.

After trading punts to start the game, the Hawks defense made the first big play of the night. Brently Necaise stripped Tramaine Brock of the football, and Donovan Saucier recovered the ball for the Hawks at the Bearcat 35.

The Hawks picked up a first down behind a six-yard run from Ronnie Thomas, and a nine-yard pitch to Andrew Smith. The Hawks then tried a reverse, but Chase Mciver fumbled the ball, and Adam Herring recovered the ball for the Bearcats at the 20.

The Bearcats took advantage of the Hawks fumble, as they took only five plays to score. Quarterback Clayton Stevens took off for an eleven-yard run, and Joe Lacour ran for a first down with a five-yard carry. Stevens then hooked up with Ken Cook on a screen pass, and Cook took it the distance for a 57-yard touchdown.

Justin Thompson booted the extra point, and with 2:36 to play in the first quarter the Bearcats led 7-0.

The Bearcats would take advantage of another Hawks fumble in the middle of the second quarter. Starting at the 46, the Bearcats drove eight plays to reach pay dirt. The drive was helped by a late hit penalty on the Hawks, and Stevens capped the drive off with a seven-yard toss to Tramaine Brock. Thompson added the point after, and the Bearcats led 14-0, at 8:49 of the second.

The teams traded punts, and the Hawks took over at the 17, with just over five minutes to play in the half. The Hawks picked up a first down when Smith rumbled for a 12-yard gain, but disaster struck three plays later. Braxton Necaise was intercepted by Brock, at the 43, and Brock took the pass all the way back for a touchdown. To make things worse, the extra point snap was bobbled, but Eric Tisdale took the ball around right end, and scored the two-point conversion. With 2:45 to play in the half, the Bearcats led 22-0.

Like a rolling snowball, the Hawks' bad luck continued as Thomas fumbled the kickoff, and the Bearcats recovered at the Hawks 16.

The Bearcats cashed in three plays later, as Joe Lacour scored a two-yard touchdown. The extra point made the score 29-0, at the half.

The Hawks regrouped, and put on a nice drive to start the second half.

Starting at the 32, Thomas ran for four yards, and Necaise connected with Mciver for 16 yards and a first down. Smith then broke free for 14 yards and another first down. A face-mask penalty gave the Hawks a first down at the 20. The Hawks could not punch the ball in, and turned it over on downs at the 23. The Bearcats would put together a thirteen-play drive that took up most of the third quarter, and sealed the game. Bradley Jacobs capped the drive with a two-yard score, and the Bearcats had a commanding 36-0 lead, with 1:25 to play in the third.

The Bearcats would score another touchdown in the fourth, as Ira Smith plunged in from two yards out, at the 7:16 mark.

With a 43-0, score staring at them, the Hawks salvaged a bit of pride with their best drive of the night.

Starting at the 35, Smith ran for five yards, and Chris Jochum ran for seven yards and a first down. Thomas had an eight-yard run, and Jochum chipped in with runs of seven and nine yards. With a first down at the Bearcat 28, the Hawks tried the same reverse play that was botched early in the game. This time, however, Justin Williams took it all the way for a 28-yard touchdown. Justin Ratcliff added the point after, and the Hawks had scored their first touchdown of the year, with 3:11 to play.

The Bearcats ran out the clock on the next drive, and the game was over.

"We had trouble throwing the ball, and the mistakes killed us. We'll go back to work Monday," Esslinger said.

The Hawks did have some bright spots in the game. Andrew Smith had 71 yards on 14 carries, and Ronnie Thomas collected 53 yards rushing. On defense, Donovan Saucier and Jonathan Lacoste had seven tackles each, and freshman Brendly Necaise played a good game with six tackles and a forced fumble.

The Hawks will travel to Biloxi next week.

Tigers maul Mercy Cross 55-20

BY MAURICE
SINGLETON

Contributing Writer

Bay High overpowered the Mercy Cross Crusaders with tactical offensive precision, stinging defense and key special teams play in their 55-20 blowout win at Yankee Stadium in Biloxi on Thursday evening. First year head coach Brenan Compretta played his starters for only the first half as the game was decided very early.

Senior Lorenzo Lewis led the Tigers with three first half touchdowns, the first a 94 yard Crusaders punt 54 yards for a score. He then closed out the Tigers first half scoring taking a screen pass from sophomore quarterback Corbin Blaize, reversed the field and outran defenders for a 75-yard touchdown.

Blaize made quite an impression Tigers fans in his debut at quarterback, completing 9 of eleven passes for 263 yards and four touchdowns with one interception.

"I was real pleased with Corbin," said Compretta. "He did an overall good job of leading our offense. He threw a catchable ball, and that's what we needed."

Leading 6-0, Blaize completed his third pass of the game, a 39-yard touchdown strike to Destin Thomas. Kyle Moran's PAT kick gave the Tigers a 13-0 lead.

Moran's kickoff was fielded at the 10 yardline, but the Tigers had trouble getting away Cross managed a 90-yard kickoff return for their lone first half score. And that was as close as the Crusaders would get all night.

Lewis' 54-yard punt return score came with 1:17

MDHS Director to address twelfth Child Abuse Prevention Conference

Donald Taylor, Executive Director of the Mississippi Department of Human Services (MDHS), will be the luncheon speaker at the 12th annual South Mississippi Child Abuse Prevention Conference, "Champions for Children." The Sept. 9 and 10 conference is presented by the Center for the Prevention of Child Abuse and will be held at the Palace Casino Resort in Biloxi.

The Center for the Prevention of Child Abuse is a local non-profit human services agency whose mission is to prevent child abuse, neglect and family violence through the provision of prevention, education and intervention programs. Headquartered in Gulfport, the United Way member agency provides one or more services in the 39 southern counties of Mississippi.

Taylor, who is on his second stint as executive director of the state agency, will articulate his vision for the future of Department of Human Services. His address will demonstrate the strong positive correlation between family arrangements and child abuse. Taylor will also speak on the corrosive effects of fatherlessness, the need for healthy marriage and abstinence initiatives and discuss the positive correlates to delinquency.

In addition to Taylor, the day-and-a-half conference will provide approximately 12 hours of education by local, state and national speakers. More than 20 individual sessions will be offered to an anticipated 300 conferees.

George Ryan, an investigator with the North Carolina First Judicial District will present a general session address on "Profiling the Child Molester." Ryan will demonstrate the characteristics of various types of molesters, including juvenile and female offenders.

Beverly Wilkins, Director of Peaceful Nations Consulting in Albuquerque, N.M., will explore the impact of domestic violence on children and present healing methods which can reverse or lessen the effects on children. Improving the community response to child abuse will be the focus of "Child Advocacy Centers 101", by Carolyn Gilbert of Huntsville, Ala. Gilbert is the director of national and international outreach for the National Children's Advocacy Center and director of the Southern Regional Children's Advocacy Center in Huntsville.

With prevention as the cornerstone of the conference, Mary Migliaro, the senior consultant with Mission Possible Consulting of Woodstock, Ga., will discuss the cost effectiveness of prevention programs and explore successful programs designed to prevent child abuse and family violence.

Local experts will also address the audience of 300 social workers, counselors, law enforcement officers, prosecutors, child advocates and prosecutors. Detective Kim Mullins of the Pearl River County Sheriff's Department will bring conferees into the 21st century with her session on "Internet Facilitation of Crimes Against Children." Officer Mullins will educate participants on internet predators and the techniques used and types of investigations conducted.

Lisa Wilbourn, Children's Program Director with the Gulf Coast Women's Center for Nonviolence, will examine the ethics governing the counseling profession and explain basic ethical practices through case examples and group participation.

The National Association of Social Workers has approved the conference for 1.3 Social Work Units; Continuing Education Units through the University of Southern Mississippi will also be available for purchase. The conference is also expected to offer Continuing Law Education units.

Early registration for the conference is available until August 30 for $120. Participants may also register the day of the conference for $150. Students presenting valid school identification may register for only $75.

All registration fees include Friday's luncheon and awarding of Social Work Units. For registration or additional conference information, contact the Center for the Prevention of Child Abuse at (228) 868-8686.

'Sisters Save the Rosary' dinner play at OLG

"Sisters Save the Rosary" is a dinner play hosted by the Peace Rosary Group of Our Lady of the Gulf Church in Bay St. Louis. A one-time performance will be held in the Our Lady of the Gulf Community Center on Saturday, September 4, 2004 at 6:45 p.m. Tickets are $10.00 each. Quantities are limited and will not be sold at the door.

Rotary Club offers free, 4 week trip to Denmark

The Bay St. Louis Rotary Club and Rotary District 6840 are seeking young professionals between the ages of 25 and 40 to participate as members of a Group Study Exchange Team to the country of Denmark in spring of 2005.

Rotary Districts around the world annually conduct four week cultural exchanges with each other. Any person engaged in a business or profession between the ages of 25 and 40 is eligible for consideration as a member of the G.S.E. team.

Teams consists of five members including a Rotarian Team Leader. A team from District 6840 which geographically includes the southeastern portion of Louisiana (including New Orleans) and the southern half of Mississippi will be selected in November and will travel to District 1460 in Denmark on or about the last week of April for four weeks returning in late May, 2005.

Airfare and lodging will be paid for by Rotary. The four-week program will provide opportunities to live in the homes of Rotarians in the host country and study the culture and lifestyle of the hosts. Opportunities for study in the member's profession are also provided. Applicants should be physically and mentally prepared for a rigorous program of work/study which will include 12-14 hour days.

Interested professionals should contact Bay St. Louis Rotary Club president David Mayley, 228-467-4336 or Darlene Underwood, 228-467-2242, for further information or the Rotary International website at <http://www.rotary.org/>.

Information can also be obtained by contacting Rotary District 6840 GSE chairman Greg Champagne at 985-785-0688 or 985-783-6237. Deadline for accepting applications will be October 15, 2004.

Casino revenue drops

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Gaming dollars from Mississippi casinos fell 0.5 percent in July compared to the same month a year ago, new figures show.

Mississippi has 29 state-regulated casinos. Each casino pays a 12 percent gaming tax, of which 8 percent goes to the state and 4 percent to local government.

Mississippi's gross gaming revenue for July amounted to $249.3 million compared to $250.5 million for July 2003, a decrease of about 0.5 percent, according to the state Tax Commission.

The Mississippi River casinos are located in Tunica, Lula, Greenville, Vicksburg and Natchez. Casinos on the Gulf Coast are in Biloxi, Gulfport and Bay St. Louis.

The river casinos reported gross gaming revenue of $135.3 million in July compared to $136.2 million in July 2003. Along the coast, the figures were $113.9 million for July and $114.2 for the same month last year.

The decline in revenue is due to a tough economy and a competitive market, said Andy Bourland, executive director of the Mississippi Gaming Association.

"I think the majority of companies continue to spend increasing marketing and advertising dollars to attract a comparable customer base to what they've had the last several years," he said.

The Gulf Coast Gaming Association and the Harrison County Tourism Commission started a $400,000 marketing campaign in mid-July that will continue through early September, said Beverly Martin, executive director of the Gulf Coast Gaming Association.

"It's a promotion in Atlanta and the prizes are visits to the Gulf Coast," she said. "We're hoping that will help shore up some of this flat business."

Larry Gregory, executive director of the Mississippi Gaming Commission, said some reasons for the slight drop in revenue are obvious: "The country is in a war, the price of fuel (is up) and we have a slower economy."

Tom Carr, senior vice president of operations for Isle of Capri, with casinos in Biloxi, Natchez, Vicksburg and Lula, said the slight revenue drop is puzzling, especially since July had an additional Friday and Saturday that July 2003 did not.

"I don't see the numbers as reflective of any trend," he said.

Curt Follmer, general manager at Rainbow Hotel Casino in Vicksburg, said the price of gasoline contributed to lower revenue.

"High fuel prices take away from discretionary income," he said. "Many people have to choose between putting fuel in the tank or putting money in a slot machine."

Gregory sees the slight decline in revenue as an impetus for casino operators to consider building convention centers.

"Historically, the first generation of casinos had no amenities and attracted basically day trip visitors," he said. "The second generation of casinos added amenities and attracted visitors for two- or three-day trips but primarily on the weekends. That's where the market has stayed with single-digit increases."

Mississippi casinos need to build convention centers, similar to what's been done in Las Vegas, so hotel rooms are booked up during the week, Gregory said.

a portable Laser Induced Plasma Channel (LIPC), which uses a laser to generate an electro-magnetic pulse (EMP) through radiation pressure.

EMP technology has always been difficult to construct, as the pulse can only be generated through a nuclear reaction. The result produces damaging currents and voltage shortages, which can effectively burn out any electrical-based machinery in the area.

Ionatron received a $12.6 million grant from the U.S. Department of Defense for 2005, a $9.2 million increase since the previous year's.

Thomas Dearmin, founder and CEO of Ionatron told reporters earlier this year that the grant would allow them to complete the LIPC project much more quickly.

"This new $12.6 million funding line which represents an increase of $9.2 million compared to last year's $3.4 million U.S. Department of Defense congressional appropriation, provides additional resources to accelerate the development of LIPC technology, that could enable our military to counter the new threats across the globe," Dearmin said. "We are gratified by the continued support of Congress to bring to market this mission-critical Ionatron LIPC system substantially sooner than otherwise would be possible. These LIPC systems should contribute to the future safety of our Country, our citizens and our armed forces."

Paul Foerman, news chief for Stennis Space Center, said that Ionatron would relocate into the Mississippi

Army Ammunition Plant. Foerman said that the plant, owned by Mason Technologies, no longer produces ammunition, but has been kept in working order in case they would be commissioned to make ammunition again.

Mississippi Governor Haley Barbour told reporters that Ionatron's move could only be good for Mississippi.

"Ionatron is the kind of high tech company we are delighted to attract to Mississippi," Barbour said. "This is going to be good for South Mississippi, and I know all of Mississippi will be proud when Ionatron rolls out their first vehicle that can fire laser-guided lightning. I can only imagine how Ionatron's technology will help protect freedom around the globe."

Suspects -- robbery

leaving in checking for the suspects according to jail booking records.

School officials were immediately notified, as well as Casino Magic's Bridges Golf Course, as it was in the area where the suspects abandoned the vehicle, Stepro said.

A Felicity Street resident said he was inside his house when heard a Bay Police vehicle "whiz by," and a bit later heard two shots fired. A helicopter from the Bureau of Immigration Customs Enforcement assisted in the search by flying over the area for a couple of hours, Stepro said.

Bridges staff spotted Keys walking across the golf course and going into the club house's restroom. They notified police and, along with Casino Security officers, Keys was apprehended, Stepro said.

It wasn't until later on Thursday evening when McDowell was arrested at Washington Street and Highway 90, according to officers.

"There was one incident of possibly a car jacking attempt, as one Cedar Point resident reported she was approached by a person with a long stick trying to get her to stop her vehicle," Stepro said.

Bay-Waveland School Superintendent Dr. Kim Stasny on Friday said, "We immediately followed our crisis management plan on intruders, or possible intruders on our campuses at the three schools in the area."

"We were in lock down and our entire staff knew what to do and were very astute as to spotting intruders that day. Having uniforms for the older students, this is one situation where it really helps, because with them, a young person could have been recognized very easily."

Sgt. Paul Cox and K-9 Dar joined in the search, as well as numerous officers in vehicles, 4-wheelers, and on foot throughout the Cedar Point area.

Police recovered a toy gun from the getaway car and an undetermined amount of cash. Officers are not sure if the toy gun found in the vehicle was used in the robbery.

Stepro said officers discovered an abandoned vehicle, but at press time had not determined if it was involved in the robbery.

In addition to the armed robbery charges, Keys is also charged with failure to yield to siren and blue lights, no driver's license and improper tag display, remaining in the first quarter. Moran's PAT kick gave the Tigers a 20-6 lead.

Tigers -- big win

Antonio Hawkins made an incredible play for the Tigers on the ensuing kick off as he made a diving recovery near the Tigers sideline, giving the Tigers the ball at the Mercy Cross 34 yardline. Two plays later, Blaize hit Brad Ladner on stride for a 12-yard touchdown strike. Moran's PAT kick gave the Tigers a 27-6 lead.

On the ensuing kickoff the Tigers again made a spectacular play as Tony Marino fielded the football in the midst of several Crusaders, giving the Tigers excellent field position at the Crusaders 31 yardline.

After a procedure call against the Tigers, Hawkins carried twice, a 32 yarder to the four yardline, and a touchdown on the very next play. The Tigers led 34-6 after Moran's PAT kick.

Blaize threw two touchdown passes in the second quarter, the first a 45-yarder to Steven Dauenhauer and then the 75-yarder to Lewis to close out the first half at 48-6.

The Tigers' final score of the night came on a two yard touchdown in the fourth quarter by Jake Johnson. Moran made his seventh consecutive PAT kick after missing his first attempt of the night.

The Tigers gave up two second half scores to the Crusaders, but overall the Tigers defense was tight and stingy.

"Our defense did a great job," said Compretta. "There's some things we need to cut down on, the jumping offense, the mental mistakes. But they were aggressive; I don't want to discourage that. We've just got to cut down on the penalties. I want to see how they respond next week."

The Tigers travel to Gulfport next Friday to take on St. John.

One of the nice things of my going to Bookends Bookstore is to talk to Angela. She has all the latest on odd things related to books and besides, she's fun to talk to. A few months ago when I stopped by she asked me if I had been listening to Mississippi Public Broadcasting. I told her not regularly.

"Well, you should, Mr. Paul. They have a new segment called Commentaries. They are looking for people to contribute two-minute general commentaries on things of interest. You should try it!"

Well I did try. I e-mailed in four possible commentaries; really just general remarks on things much like I do in these columns. Nothing happened. After about a month, I e-mailed a query asking if they had received my submissions. I got a reply that they had received them and that my submissions "are being considered" by the Commentary Committee. If one is chosen you will be contacted by our producer and asked to come to Jackson to record it in your own voice.

Wow! I started singing the old Johnny Cash song, "I'm Going To Jackson" around the house until Stella told me to stop. I began checking my e-mail messages five, sometimes six, seven times a day. Nothing.

Then I came home one day to find I had a telephone message from Kevin Farrell. Two of my commentaries had been chosen! When I told Stella, she said, "Jackson? All that way for a couple-minutes talk. Can't you just call it in on the phone?"

Well, yes I could, but I decided to do it one better. I went to see a friend, Pete, who had produced my Audio Book, Other Views From The Porch (if your not familiar with this, see the end of today's column). I asked

A Waveland man who made it big in Baton Rouge is coming back home to create a multi-million dollar shopping and apartment complex ...

On the Avenue

The artist's rendering of a mixed-use retail and apartment project proposed by Baton Rouge attorney Mack Trellis for his property on Coleman Ave. at Bourgcois.

Longo says project fits 'vision' for Coleman

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

When the Waveland Planning and Zoning Board nixed Baton Rouge attorney Mack Trellis' idea for an 85-unit senior apartment complex at Coleman and Bourgcois Avenues last December, he went back to the drawing board and came up with another idea, one he hopes will better suit the downtown atmosphere.

The result is a four-building complex that mixes retail space with apartment living, while adding parking for the downtown area and maintaining green space. Preliminary plans for the mixed-use project have been completed by Baton Rouge architect Bryon Hume.

"The project is going to be pretty and all first-class," said Trellis from Baton Rouge last week.

"We're excited that after a couple of proposals that did not go, that this one seems to be right in line with what the city had in mind for our vision of Coleman Ave.," said Mayor Tommy Longo. "The project seems to meet all the setback requirements, parking requirements, and includes landscaping that will preserve some green space."

Trellis, who grew up in Waveland, said he was considering donating a portion of the property that goes all the way back to Terrace Ave., to the city to preserve as a park area. The idea is not finalized yet though, he said.

Each of the four three-story buildings, which Trellis said will be about 30 feet high, will be separated by a courtyard green space which will be landscaped with plants and trees. There will be a covered walkway in front of the retail shops on the first floor. Apartments, which Trellis said will most likely be rentals, will be on the second and third floors with some balconies offering views of the beachfront. Controversy over the proposed senior housing came mostly from concerns about ambulance traffic and the fact that Trellis had proposed using the rear portion of the property as an employee entrance and parking lot. The rear portion of the property is zoned residential. As long as the project meets the setback requirements for commercial development, the use as a multi-family dwelling and retail space fits within the guidelines for commercially-zoned property, said Christine Gallagher at the Waveland building permit office.

Plans would, of course, have to be reviewed by the city engineer as well as the public works and fire departments, she said. The only thing that would bring the project before the planning board, she said, would be if Trellis changes his plans for the rear lot bordering Terrace Ave. The lot could still not be used for parking or any other commercial use without the approval of the board. Trellis will display his plans at Wave Fest.

Weddings and Engagements

Treutel-Kidd

Catherine Treutel and Stephen A. Kidd were united in marriage in an evening ceremony on June 25th at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis. Officiating were Rev. Michael Tracey and Rev. Msgr. James McGough.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a designer gown of ivory Dulciana Satin. The strapless bodice was embellished with venise lace and pearls. The fitted asymmetrical waistline gave way to a flowing skirt with side drape and cascading venise lace extended to the hemline and encircled the chapel length train.

Her finger-tip veil of illusion was held in place by a small custom-designed headpiece of lace and pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of white hydrangeas, cala lilies and gardenias.

Matron of Honor was Angel Ambrose Shands of Bay St. Louis. Bridesmaids were Melissa Treutel Schmidt of Daphne, AL and Susan Treutel Gachassin of Lafayette, LA, sisters of the bride. They wore gowns of satin and organza in European periwinkle. Their only jewelry was custom-designed crystal drop earrings. They carried a bouquet of blue and periwinkle hydrangeas.

The best man was father of the groom, Thomas W. Kidd, Sr. of Bay St. Louis. Groomsmen were Josh Alan Hansell of Waveland and Gary Carlton Oakes of Jonesboro, GA.

The prelude music was provided by the Sunderland String Quartet of Hattiesburg, MS. Organist was Alana Rutledge, and Ron Crosby was trumpeter. Soloist was Michael Werda. Yvonne Sallinger was Wedding Coordinator and Michelle Knight was the designer for the church and reception decorations.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the Bridges in Bay St. Louis.

A bridal luncheon was held the day prior to the wedding at the Sycamore House in Bay St. Louis and was hosted by the bride's sisters and matron of honor.

A rehearsal dinner was held at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club on the eve of the wedding and was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Kidd, Sr., parents of the groom.

Christin Tranchina Hirsch

Hirsch-LeBoeuf

Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Hirsch, Jr. of Bay St. Louis, MS announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Christin Tranchina Hirsch, to Ryan Joseph LeBoeuf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Novel P. LeBoeuf, Jr. of Houma, LA.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Our Lady Academy and attended Nicholls State University. She received a bachelor of arts degree in Public Relations and Government. She is a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority.

She is presently employed at Children's Hospital.

The prospective groom is a Vanderbilt Catholic High School graduate and attended Nicholls State University. He is a member of Theat-XI Fraternity.

He is presently employed with Advantage Maintenance and Construction.

The wedding will take place in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in early October.

Gaits to host volunteer orientation sessions

People of all ages are urged to help a worthy cause by volunteering to help out at Gaits to Success, a non-profit organization that operates a therapeutic horseback riding program for handicapped youngsters in South Mississippi and Louisiana out of its stable in Kiln.

"You don't have to work with horses," said Gaits Director Carolyn Rhodes. "There are lots of other ways to volunteer."

Gaits will sponsor orientation sessions for volunteers at 1 p.m. on Sept. 11 and Oct. 2. Both sessions will last about two hours and light snacks will be served to participants.

The first session will introduce participants to the program and how it works. The second will go into details about the activities involved and specific tasks for volunteers.

Gaits to Success is a member of the North American Riding for the Handicapped Association. It serves youngsters with a variety of disabilities, including partial paralysis, cerebral palsy, developmental delays, mental retardation and autism.

Therapeutic riding helps these youngsters improve muscle tone, balance, coordination, posture, motor skills and emotional well-being.

Volunteers may help by working with horses and riders, but Gaits also needs help with publicity, fundraising, a newsletter, special events, etc.

To get to the stable, drive north up Mississippi 603 and turn left at the first stoplight in Kiln (next to Dolly's Quick Stop). The stable is 1.7 miles after the turnoff, located on the right. Details: (228) 255-5368.

You'll go nutty for 18th Pecan Fest

The 18th Annual Mississippi Pecan Festival will be held Sept. 25-26. This year the festival will sponsor the MS Pecan Festival Bake-Off and Charity Tasting. The event will be held Sunday, September 26, 2004 @ the 18th Annual MS Pecan Festival. Contestants in the Bake-Off will compete for over $600 in cash and prizes. There is no entry fee but applicants must fill out an entry form. For more information or an entry form call (601)-525-3792 or (601)964-8201 or write the MS Pecan Festival Association, P.O. Box 630, Richton, MS 39476.

Diamondhead Continuing Education registration set Thursday and Friday

THE ECHO

The fall session for the Diamondhead Continuing Education will hold registration at the former Pro Shop or the old 19th Hole on Thursday, September 2nd from 6 to 8 p. and Friday, September 3rd from 2 to 4 p.m. The sessions are six weeks long and all classes are non-credit.

John and Tricia McDonald will teach art classes. John, a native of the Mississippi Gulf Coast, studied with John Pike and Edgar Whitney. John began teaching watercolor workshops in the late 70's. Tricia has taught art in both public and private schools.

John and Tricia McDonald have been active in the Gulf Coast art scene, since their return to the area in 1997. They produce many paintings of local scenes, such as the Old Yacht Club, the Ship Island Lighthouse, Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church and the Broken Spoke. John paints many seascapes and Tricia is known for pastels of oaks, drawings of pelicans and watercolors of houses.

John will teach a watercolor workshop and Tricia will have a class in colored pencil techniques. Christel Fritzsche will instruct a class in stained glass; Shirley Cameron will teach basic drawing and color; Donna Brown returns for a class in oil painting; Gene Sullivan will teach a class in sculpture; and Nell Heyns returns to instruct a class in pottery.

The computer classes will have a variety of choices: Basics I, Basics II, Shop...on...the Internet, Computer Tips & Techniques, MS Works Suite, Excel, Quicken, and

The six-week session will begin the week of September 13th. You may view the class schedule by visiting the DCE website at www.dheadca.org or calling Hilda Bourg, School Administrator, at 255-1299.

Views -- hear it

him if I could use his sound studio to make a CD of the two commentaries. He said sure and the next day I sat in a booth while Pete twirled knobs and made me sound nice. He worked on it a little bit more to make sure it was up to his exacting standards and I sent the finished CD off to Jackson.

About a week ago, I got an e-mail from Farrell saying that the first of my commentaries, Coming of age in Utopia -- a few pithy remarks on my tomcat, Holly -- would be on this week.

Let me explain the Commentaries broadcast procedure. Commentaries comes on the air five times each day with a different person's talk each time. The commentaries of these five people are repeated each day of the week, but at a different time each day. Farrell's e-mail gave me the different times my talk would be broadcast during the week.

Monday, my talk was to come on at 06:19. I barely got out of the shower at that time and rushing into the kitchen found I had missed it. Later at Hancock Bank, Patricia took my transaction and said, "Oh by the way, I heard you this morning on MPB. You sounded great!"

Tuesday, I was scheduled to be on at 07:49. Well, I wasn't on. I listened to someone talk about taking his daughter camping. It was nice but it wasn't my talk. As the day progressed, I listened to other talks at the remaining scheduled times; they were nice as well, but not a one was my commentary.

Wednesday, although I was scheduled to be on at 5:33 in the afternoon, I started from the top, 06:19, listening to each scheduled broadcast. This was my last day to hear it. Thursday and Friday, Stella and I were leaving on vacation. As the day progressed, I listened to each of the commentaries. As each came on they were still nice, but none was my commentary.

At 4:25, I sat near the radio to hear the 4:33 commentary. Although, I was scheduled to air at 5:33, not 4:33, I didn't trust them. At 4:28, the doorbell rang and I went and answered it. It was Nathaniel, my neighbor, looking for Stella to brag about some fabulous redfish he had caught. Fishermen are strange people and it took several minutes to get him to understand that I didn't want to hear about his fish. He followed me into the house still talking about his fish, as I ran back to the dining room where the radio was still playing.

"Say Paul, isn't that you on the radio?" It was. We heard the last two or three sentences of my commentary and then the announcer stating that, "Paul Estronza La Violette lives in Biloxi." "Biloxi?" this from my astonished neighbor as they went back to regular MPB broadcasting.

I didn't bother to listen to the 5:30 commentary.

Early registration for the antique car show will be held from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. at Coleman and Central Ave. Awards will be presented at 3:45 with a grand procession to the beach at 4 p.m.

The sand sculpting contest will be held between the Veteran's Memorial and the pier. Sculpting will begin at 10 a.m., with judging at 2:30 p.m. and awards presented at the beach stage at 3:15 p.m.

Promoters hope this will be the biggest and the best year yet. To make that happen, they need your help. Help can be in the form of a sponsorship, monetary support, volunteering, or by participating. Help from individuals or groups is welcomed.

The event began as a venue for community participation, as an end of summer celebration for both residents and visitors, and of course to promote an atmosphere to encourage economic growth on Coleman Ave. Each year the Fest has continued to grow.

Besides the 5K run and Antique Auto Show, this years Fest will feature live bands all day, arts and crafts, food and beverage booths, information booths, children's games and rides (pony rides, Waveland fire train, rock wall, bungee and rascal rides), a sand sculpting contest at the beach, community entertainment and a raffle, with art, and retail, restaurant and hotel certificates. Downtown businesses will feature sidewalk sales or other promotions.

A fireworks display sponsored by the City of Waveland will finish the day at dusk, about 8 p.m.

Bands will include The Blackened Blues Band, The Porch Rockers, Kan Dee Side, and Road 326. On the Coleman Ave. stage will be performing Glenn and Kitty, dancers singers and theater groups.

For more information on Wave Fest, to reserve a booth or a sponsorship, or to volunteer please call Carol Kerr at 228-467-1405, or Kathy Pinn at 228-467-3922. The event is sponsored by the Coleman Ave. Coalition and the City of Waveland. For more information on the 5K run call 228-469-0792. For more information on the auto show call 228-467-3922 or 467-1815. For more information on the sand sculpting contest call 228-467-5454.

Military Mention

Air Force Airman 1st Class Terrence N. Thibideau has arrived for duty at Andersen Air Force Base, Agaña, Guam.

The airman, a ground radio communications apprentice with one year of military service, is assigned to the 36th Communications Squadron.

He is the son of Timothy M. Thibideau of Vidalia Road, Pass Christian, Miss., and Dorothy J. Spears of Snowlake Drive, Ashland, Miss.

Marine Corps Lance Cpl. Joshua F. Dastugue, son of Carol F. and Tyrone F. Dastugue of Bay St. Louis, Miss., recently reported for duty with Marine Aerial Refueler Transport Squadron 152, 1st Marine Aircraft Wing, Okinawa, Japan.

Dastugue joined the Marine Corps in December 2003.

Civilian Desiree S. Terry, daughter of Michel D. Williams of Waveland, Miss. and Ronald C. Burton of Waveland, Miss., recently enlisted in the U.S. Navy under the Delayed Entry Program at Navy Recruiting District, New Orleans, La.

The program allows recruits to enter the Navy and take up to one year to complete prior commitments such as high school.

Using recruiter as mentors, this program helps recruits ease into the transition from civilian to military life.

Terry will report for active duty to undergo basic training at the Navy's Recruit Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Terry is completing her senior year at Bay High School.

Navy Seaman Apprentice Stephen A. Bates, son of Glenda A. Bates of Bay St. Louis, Miss. and Luke A. Bates of Waveland, Miss., recently completed U.S. Navy basic training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the eight-week program, Bates completed a variety of training which included classroom study and practical instruction on naval customs, first aid, firefighting, water safety and survival, and shipboard and aircraft safety. An emphasis was also placed on physical fitness.

The capstone event of boot camp is "Battle Stations". This exercise gives recruits the skills and confidence they need to succeed in the fleet. "Battle Stations" is designed to galvanize the basic warrior attributes of sacrifice, dedication, teamwork and endurance in each recruit through the practical application of basic Navy skills and the core values of Honor, Courage and Commitment. Its distinctly "Navy" flavor was designed to take into account what it means to be a Sailor.

Bates is a 2002 graduate of Hancock High School of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Air Force Airman John M. Brogdon has graduated from basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

During the six weeks of training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization, and military customs and courtesies; performed drill and ceremony marches, and received physical training, rifle marksmanship, field training exercises, and special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

He is the son of Mary Brogdon of W. Dubuison Road, Pass Christian, Miss.

Brogdon is a 2001 graduate of St. John High School, Gulfport, Miss.

Navy Seaman Recruit Renell T. Williams, son of Victorine G. Williams of Waveland, Miss. and William T. Davis of Bay St. Louis, Miss., was recently promoted to his current rank upon graduation from recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

Williams received the early promotion for outstanding performance during all phases of the training cycle. Training which included classroom study and practical instruction on naval customs, first aid, firefighting, water safety and survival, and shipboard and aircraft safety. An emphasis was also placed on physical fitness.

The capstone event of boot camp is "Battle Stations". This exercise gives recruits the skills and confidence they need to succeed in the fleet. Its distinctly "Navy" flavor was designed to take into account what it means to be a Sailor.

Williams is a 2003 graduate of Bay High School of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Navy Seaman Jacob L. Conant, son of William B. Conant of Kiln, Miss., recently completed U.S. Navy basic training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the eight-week program, Conant completed a variety of training which included classroom study and practical instruction on naval customs, first aid, fire fighting, water safety and survival, and shipboard and aircraft safety. An emphasis was also placed on physical fitness.

The capstone event of boot camp is "Battle Stations".

This exercise gives recruits the key skills and confidence they need to graduate and take to the fleet. "Battle Stations" has been designed to galvanize the basic warrior attributes of sacrifice, dedication, teamwork and endurance in each recruit through the practical application of basic Navy skills and the core values of Honor, Courage and Commitment. Green Team kicks off fundraisers

The Green Team of Les Bon Temps kicks off its race for King and Queen. The Green Team has as King and Queen candidates Louis Whittle and Glynnis Piazza. Working for the Green Team will be team Manager Lou Wilkerson and Maids and Dukes Laura Griffith & George Piazza, Pam Wynn & Ron Darisek, and Beth and T. J. Burleson.

The activities for the will begin on Tuesday Sept. 7 at the Bingo at Post 139. They will be selling Hot Dogs, Hamburgers, Nachos and desserts. They will also have a couple of raffles. On Saturday, Sept. 11 and Sunday, Sept. 12, there will be a garage sale in the American Legion Club House. We will have a lot of good stuff. Plenty of things to choose from and bargains by the bag full. The most important thing about the Carnival Ball is that the proceeds go to the President's Special Project. This year it will be to meet the needs of the Hospitalized Veterans and the Veterans in the four State Veterans Homes. They gave their all and we cannot forget them in their time of need. Support the ball fundraisers and you will be supporting the Veterans of Mississippi.

A Quiet Mind

Invariably, great spiritual leaders are men and women who have an air of great peace about them: the Buddha is usually represented sitting in serene contemplation; Jesus slept soundly on a boat during a great storm whereas his disciples were in a terrible panic; and Aristotle talks about the magnanimous man as someone who is never in a hurry and never talks shrilly because there are greater things on his mind. Great spiritual leaders realize that the things of this earth are of little relative importance, and that the greatest things are the eternal ones, thus, there is no need to anxiously rush about. Ultimately, there is nothing to worry about, because God has everything worked out. Conversely, if we lack the peace of a quiet mind, outward comfort and material goods will have little or no value because our undue anxiety will keep us from enjoying them. We are told in the Holy Bible that true peace comes from God, and that a heart at peace gives life to the Body.

Stand in awe, and sin not; commune with your heart upon your bed, and be still.
K.J.V. Psalm 4:4

How long do you want to live?

The 70-year-old patient told his doctor at the end of his annual physical: "Doctor, I want to live to be 100 years old. I think I have made a pretty good start, because I really take care of myself. I don't smoke, drink, eat too much, run around or carouse."

Giving him a quizzical look, the doctor commented dryly: "If you don't smoke, drink, eat too much, run around or carouse, why on earth would you want to live to be 100?"

Mirroring that remark, the August 20, 2004 issue of Time magazine has a cover and feature story on "How to Live to Be 100 (and not regret it)."

Of course, regretting to live 100 years can have multiple causes, such as Alzheimer's disease or other forms of dementia, severe physical debilitation, rotten relationships with one's relatives or so-called friends, or, as the good doctor suggested, a boring life.

Predictably, the Time article enlists the obvious by examining studies on the lives of centenarians. An overall thumbnail sketch: "On average, white U.S. males live to be 75 vs. 68 for blacks; for women, the racial gap is 80 vs. 75; Married folk outlive singles (but men benefit more than women do); older siblings live longer than younger ones; mothers slightly outlive childless women."

Prominent by its absence in the article is the fascinating point that well-grounded faith in God prolongs one's life significantly by equipping one to handle adversity and to use both negative and positive people and things to one's best advantage.

Reflections on Life

by Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

Also absent is the remarkable study of seriously ill patients who lived longer because they were three-to-one more likely to recover due to a strong support system of relatives or friends who hovered bedside to rally the sick from the jaws of death.

Finally, another amazing study focused on seriously ill patients for whose recovery their family and/or members of the medical staff were praying. Again, the recovery rate of those patients was about three-to-one greater than other patients.

Right off the bat, then, longevity has much to do with the most obvious, which is genealogy, and with many other critical factors such as support systems of God, family, friends and health practitioners. As in our mental area, our genes determine the depth of our physical ability while environment determines the extent of its development.

Environment, mind you, is much more than good or bad living conditions and good or bad health care. Much more, it is one's determination to avoid dangerous foods and drinks, and to exercise moderation in the consumption of even good foods and drinks.

So powerful is the role of genes that sometimes they pave the way for extraordinary longevity where the environment is bad. I often quote the case of Charlie Smith whom I met personally in 1969 in Bartow, Florida. Kidnapped from Africa as a 12-year-old, Charlie lived to the age of 137, though he ate Spam and other cholesterol-laden foods.

"We come from good stock!" my mother's twin brother, Jerome Gaston Petrie, often told us until his death at the age of 86. Evidently benefiting from the same stock, my mother lived to the ripe age of 95 years and seven months. Over the years, I have heard many friends likewise refer to their family genes as good stock.

Observing that new research suggests that a long life is no accident, the Time article goes on to note that, for almost every centenarian who attributes longevity to "I never took a drink," there is another who affirms, "I drink a shot of whiskey every day."

Thus, in some cases, as in Charlie Smith's, we see the sheer power and force of genes. In other cases, we witness the wonders environment can do, while in still others we find that a combination of strong genes and a good environment does best of all.

Highly concentrated pockets of centenarians in various corners of the world have puzzled and intrigued health scientists for many decades and driven them to intense studies. Easily the most noteworthy location is the Japanese islands of Okinawa where 600 of their 1.3 million inhabitants are living and active into their second century.

Other famous locations are Sardinia, Italy and Nova Scotia, Canada. So what do the cente-narians of those areas have in common? Perhaps because of their relatively remote geographical situation, the inhabitants tend to eat more wholesome portions of fresh vegetables and fruits, and less heavy meat products.

Not only is this fare healthier of itself, but it brings with it a lower intake of calories. Beginning with an accidental discovery in rats, Harvard researcher Dr. David Sinclair established through experiments with various lab animals that those lived longest which were restricted severely in their intake of calories.

The Calorie Restriction Society has carried this information to an extreme, severely limiting the daily total count of their calories in order to reap the benefits of a longer life. This, surely, is proof that we cannot have the best of both worlds in this matter.

As in the above-quoted story of the doctor with his patient doing his annual physical, we might feel moved to ask the Calorie Restriction Society: "Since you deprive yourselves of so much of the best foods, why would you want to live to be a hundred?"

Clearly, we are back to the balance which all of us have to exercise in life. While we cannot have the best of both worlds in any given issue or situation, we can at least have the good sense to find the most advantageous way to eat, to drink and to live.

Centenarians, 90% of whom live functionally to the age of 92, have this in common: they do meaningful things which give them both exercise and joy. We can all live with that, and live more abundantly.

Scripture Says

By Ed Young

The gifts of the Spirit

Does the church of God operate today without the gifts of the Spirit? For the most part the answer is, yes. Many denominations believe that those gifts were for the first century believers. The gifts of healing, casting out devils, discernment of spirits or not for the church of Christ to use today.

This writer wonders when did Satan disarm his demons and change his tactics? He didn't!

However, if you don't believe that the gifts of the Spirit should be used to fight against the powers of darkness; naturally you will not have them as a weapon in your arsenal.

Grant it, many times the gifts have been misused. Well, meaning believers tried to use a certain gift that was not given to them by Jesus. Foolish and spiritual shallowness is often the case.

Nevertheless, many missionaries on the field today know for a fact; these gifts are being used today. They have no problem believing and using them for the glory of God. It's unfortunate that many churches try to explain this away. Why?

So when churches who refuse to scriptures use them, the Holy Spirit seeks out those who will. I Cor. 12: 4, 10.

RICA to begin in Sept.

It's been said that many people, in some way, are searching for God. Reaching out to those who are looking for answers is what RICA (Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults) is all about. It is a continuing process of prayer, study and discussion for those who are interested in information about the Catholic Church.

The first phase, which begins on September 2, 2004 at 7:00 p.m. at the St. Clare Parish Hall, 234 South Beach Boulevard, Waveland, is a preliminary program to explain the process of preparing adults for initiation into the church through the reception of the Sacraments of Baptism, the Eucharist and Confirmation. For further information, please contact Noel Phillips at 228-467-3296 or the Rectory at 228-467-9275.

The "Word" for the Week

Donald J. Prutow • Box 303, Sterling, KS 67579

A loving God and a terrible hell

I stood on the porch debating with a man who did not believe in hell. In addition, this man did not believe Jesus Christ is God. At any rate, as we talked, and as I fumbled around with my Bible, I pointed this fellow to Mark 9. The verses I wanted were 47-48. "And if your eye causes you to stumble, cast it out; it is better for you to enter the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes, to be cast into hell, where their worm does not die, and the fire is not quenched." I didn't quite get that far. I told this fellow he was on the way to the hell he didn't believe in because he also did not believe Jesus Christ was and is God. He left. I went back into the house. A lot of people do not believe in hell. They can't conceive of a loving God having an awful place like hell. But let's look at it this way. Suppose a vicious killer kidnapped your daughter, raped her several times, and left her dead, after mutilating her body with a butcher knife. Suppose the killer is apprehended, tried and convicted. You have an opportunity to speak at the sentencing hearing. Your position is simple. This malignant blot on society should be put away forever. The heinous nature of the crime demands it. When life without parole is handed down, you actually rejoice. You do not gloat. But you are happy and relieved proper punishment is meted out. Justice is done. At the same time, you are not unloving. You are active in community affairs giving yourself to the poor and needy. Isn't this the way it is with God? Can't He have a place where the scales of justice are finally balanced and just rewards are measured out?

Hancock County walks to save babies with March of Dimes

The Coast Chapter of the March of Dimes has announced the date for the Hancock County WalkAmerica. This year's event will take place Saturday, November 13, 2004 at The Train Depot in Bay St. Louis. Participants in WalkAmerica raise money to further the March of Dimes mission, which is to improve the health of babies by preventing birth defects and infant mortality through research, community programs, education and advocacy.

This year's Chairman is Mickey Lagasse with Hancock County Building Zoning Office. Mickey is a lifetime resident of Hancock County. "The success of the March of Dimes is very important to me, because 17 months ago my wife Tonya and I were blessed with a healthy baby girl. Because of research being conducted by the March of Dimes through fund raising events such as WalkAmerica, we have more and more healthy babies."

Casino Magic Bay St. Louis will serve as 2004 Presenting Sponsor. Hancock Medical Center and Hancock Women's Center have also joined this event of family fun as WalkAmerica Sponsors. National Sponsors include Kmart, CIGNA, Famous Footwear and Discovery Health Channel.

73. Help Wanted

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR
THE HOUSING AUTHORITY of the City of Bay St. Louis, MS, an equal opportunity public housing agency, is now accepting applications and resumes for the position of Executive Director. This is a highly responsible position that reports to a five member Board of Commissioners. The Executive Director will be responsible for the financial and operational management of this 101 unit low-income public housing agency, with an operating and capital improvement budget in excess of $500,000 annually. The ability to work effectively with the public, staff, residents, and manage federal grants is essential and required. All applicants must have basic computer knowledge and must have a public housing manager certification or must be willing to obtain the certification within a year of employment. Experience in the administration of a public housing program, community development, or other public program is desirable. Applicant should possess a degree from a four year accredited college or have a combination of education and experience to meet these requirements. A full job description is available upon request from: William J. "Bubba" Harper, (228) 396-2612 or via written request to: Future Spec, P.O. Box 7090, D'Arville, MS, 39540-7090. Applications will be received in the form of resumes in an original and three (3) copies to be submitted along with salary requirements, three work references, and three personal references to: Bay St. Louis Housing Authority, 601 Blenville Street, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520. The deadline for submission of resumes is Thursday, September 16, 2004, at the close of business. The Housing Authority of the City of Bay St. Louis is an equal opportunity employer.

Rogers, Temptations to perform at Magic

"THE GAMBLER" SHOWS ALL HIS CARDS AT CASINO MAGIC BAY ST. LOUIS

It seems only appropriate that Kenny Rogers, "The Gambler", will play two shows at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis, September 3rd and 4th at 9 p.m. Tickets are $29.95, $34.95, and $39.95 and can be purchased at the Casino Magic Box Office, by phone at 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or through any Ticketmaster outlet.

The four-time Grammy Award winning singer-songwriter is best known for hits like, "The Gambler," "The Greatest," "Lady," "Lucille," "Islands in the Stream" and "You Decorated My Life." Rogers has recorded 21 number one songs on over 60 albums and sold over 105 million albums worldwide. A new double-disc set of his "42 Ultimate Hits" was released in July.

Rogers is also known for his acting ability. His most memorable role was playing the infamous gambler, Brady Hawks, in the five-part miniseries, "The Gambler," between 1980 and 1994.

Rogers is very active in the fight against hunger as well. In 1990, he established a homeless shelter in Athens, Georgia and during the 80's he participated in the historic recording of "We Are the World" and co-chaired the "Hands Across America" fundraiser.

At 65, the Houston native has no intention of retiring. He and wife, Wanda, welcomed twin boys in July and when he's not busy changing diapers, Rogers continues to record and collaborate with other musical artists. He has also become a well-respected photographer.

Don't miss Kenny

Rogers in his two performances Labor Day weekend, September 3 & 4, at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis! Must be 21 to attend. For future Casino Magic entertainment visit www.casinomagic-baystlouis.com.

THE TEMPTATIONS TO PERFORM AT BAY MAGIC

Casino Magic in Bay St. Louis is proud to welcome the "standard-bearers of breathtaking harmonies," The Temptations, Friday and Saturday September 24 & 25 at 9 p.m. Tickets are $19.95, $24.95 and $29.95 and can be purchased at the Casino Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or at any Ticketmaster location. With a string of hits including: "The Way You Do The Things You Do," "My Girl," "Get Ready," "Ain't Too Proud to Beg," "You're My Everything," "I'm Gonna Make You Love Me" and "I Can't Get Next to You," no other 60's pop group could top them.

These hits and many more were first performed in the early 60's by Otis Williams, David Ruffin, Eddie Kendricks, Melvin Franklin and Paul Williams. They are still lovingly executed today by Otis and their heirs-in-music: Ron Tyson (first tenor), Theo Peoples (baritone), and Harry McGilberry (bass). It proves those men are gone, but in no way forgotten - not by a grateful public or by the men who now carry the legacy forward into the next generation.

The Temptations started out in those Motown bus tours called The Motor Town revues. They crisscrossed the country and the crowds became larger. Today the group still tours, performing at over 100 venues a year.

"We just never stop," Williams says, "because I think we've become like a piece of Americana. People want to see us." What they are seeing these days is a group that reminds Williams "more of what the first group of men were like than any other line-up."

"This group has the talent, determination, and brotherhood that will take us forward, give our fans what they come to hear and keep us on our toes doing that Temptations Walk into the year 2004," says Williams. Don't miss The Temptations in their one performance at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis, Friday and Saturday September 24 & 25! Must be 21 to attend.

Learn to craft and tell your own stories at Poplarville

On Tuesday, September 7, the Poplarville Storytelling Guild invites anyone interested in learning how to craft memories into interesting stories to share. Whether you are a novice or professional, teacher or librarian, parent, senior citizen, this workshop will have something for you.

The workshop will be conducted by storyteller Diane Williams. Williams has been telling stories for 12 years as a professional and her career has taken her throughout the United States and to other parts of the world as well. Williams is the author of the children's book Annie Mae Jumps the Broom and the audiobook of stories, Mississippi Storytelling - A Heap of Comfort. Williams has taught storytelling as an adult enrichment course at Millsaps College in Jackson. Her students have been people from all walks of life.

This workshop, "Storytelling Dinner Theatre" uses an instruction framework for crafting stories as one would approach a buffet dinner. In such a relaxed setting one chooses from true life experiences appetizers, meats, vegetables, and dessert, or the story parts which delight the individual taste of the teller. There is no pressure to include or exclude any portion. I want participants to feel comfortable getting involved in this storytelling workshop. It should be as if one is delightfully filling their plate at the dinner table", says Diane Williams.

The workshop will take place at the Methodist Church Youth Building located at 203 West Julia Street in downtown Poplarville. Beginning session starts 10 a.m. There will an hour lunch break at noon on your own, or go to lunch with the group. Session two from 1 - 3:30 p.m.

Everyone is welcome to come back at 6:30 p.m. to share stories at the regular monthly meeting of the Poplarville Storytelling Guild meeting Workshop tellers will be honored guest for the evening meeting.

Williams also works at the Mississippi Arts Commission as the Arts Industry Director. She will spend a portion of the workshop time discussing opportunities for individual artists interested in applying to programs offered by the Arts Commission. Opportunities offered by the Arts Commission include Minigrants for artists, Fellowships for artistic excellence, and opportunities to be on the Artist Roster as a performing/ presenting artist, or as an arts education demonstration. For more information contact Diane Williams at (601) 359-6529 or visit the Mississippi Arts Commission's website at www.arts.state.ms.us.

First year head coach Brennan Compretta is putting his stamp on the 2004 Bay High Tigers football team with a changed offensive scheme and a new defense, which he expects - combined with strong senior leadership - will result in more wins than last year's 5-5 record.

"I've been real pleased with our senior leadership, their physical ability, their overall leadership. We've got a good group," Compretta complimented his eleven seniors on the roster. "They all work hard and they help with the younger guys. They lead by example."

One noticeable difference from last year's team is that the Tigers will feature more of a balanced offensive attack. Compretta expects the Tigers will not pass quite as much; he expects that the pass-run ratio will be closer to 50-50.

"We've got the personnel to run and pass," Compretta explained. "We'll run out of the spread offense. It's a little different from last year. We'll line up under center and shotgun."

The big difference: "We've got some guys who can run the ball," said Compretta.

OFFENSE: BACKS AND RECEIVERS

Senior Antonio Hawkins will be the featured running-back, moving over from the receiver position on last year's team. Junior Kyle Moran will share the ball-carrying load.

Compretta expects the ground game will be key to the Tigers ability to manage games and control the clock. But even more importantly, he expects the ground game will catch opposing defenses off-guard, and result in some big pass plays, especially to senior Lorenzo Lewis, who led the state in almost every receiving category in 2003.

An All Gulf Coast selection, Lewis led the state in receiving yardage and touchdowns on 54 receptions in 2003. Any time he gets the ball in the open field, anything can happen.

"I don't believe I have ever coached a kid as quick as Lorenzo," said Compretta.

Rounding out the receiving corps are seniors Steven Dauenhauer, Destin Thomas and Brad Ladner.

OFFENSE: QUARTERBACKS

Junior Trevor Adams and sophomore Corbin Blaze are battling at the quarterback spot. A sophomore transfer Tyler Brush who is out with an injury is also competing for the spot.

"They've all got good qualities," said Compretta. "They all have things they need to improve on, but they all have the potential to lead our offense."

OFFENSE: LINE

Junior Grannison Sellier is the center, flanked by senior Jeremiah Banashak and sophomore Reuben Hawkins at the guard positions, and senior Daniel Byrock and junior Teddy Morris at the tackle spots.

"We don't have a lot of depth, but most of them have great work ethics," said Compretta.

DEFENSE

Defensively, the Tigers will be running a 4-3, featuring Adams at middle linebacker with Cory Thornton and Moran on the outsides.

Ladner and Steven Dauenhauer will anchor the front four in the defensive end positions, and senior Jake Johnson and Morris will line up inside the trenches at the guards.

Senior Tony Marino and Thomas are expected to be the starters at cornerback with a corps of support to come from junior Andrew Chevis, sophomore Chris Cannon and Lewis.

Sophomore Robert Labat and junior Reggie Calhoun are expected to start at the safety positions with junior Jason Sims and Antonio Hawkins to support them.

"We're going to implement an attack style of defense that should cause some turnovers and make some big plays," said Compretta. "We're pretty young and inexperienced; we're untested. It'll be interesting to see how they respond."

KICKING GAME

The Tigers have a great deal of confidence in their kicking game as Kyle Moran picks up where he left off last year, handling all of the kicking and punting duty. Moran averaged 39.6 yards per punt during the 2003 season.

COACHING STAFF

Dave Kenson is offensive coordinator and quarterbacks and linebackers coach. Jeff Hopgood is the offensive and defensive line coach. Keith Pigott is coach of the receivers. Will Seymour coaches defensive backs. Jeremy Turcotte is the special teams coordinator. Luke Weems and Joe Shaw are assistants with the junior high team. Taylor Lafontaine is a student assistant.

SCHEDULE

The Tigers open the season with three non-district games, the first two games on the road. The Tigers begin play tonight at Mercy Cross in Biloxi and next Friday they travel to Gulfport to take on St. John.

The Tigers begin a three-game home schedule with Pearl River Central for homecoming on September 10, followed by Pass Christian and Stone County.

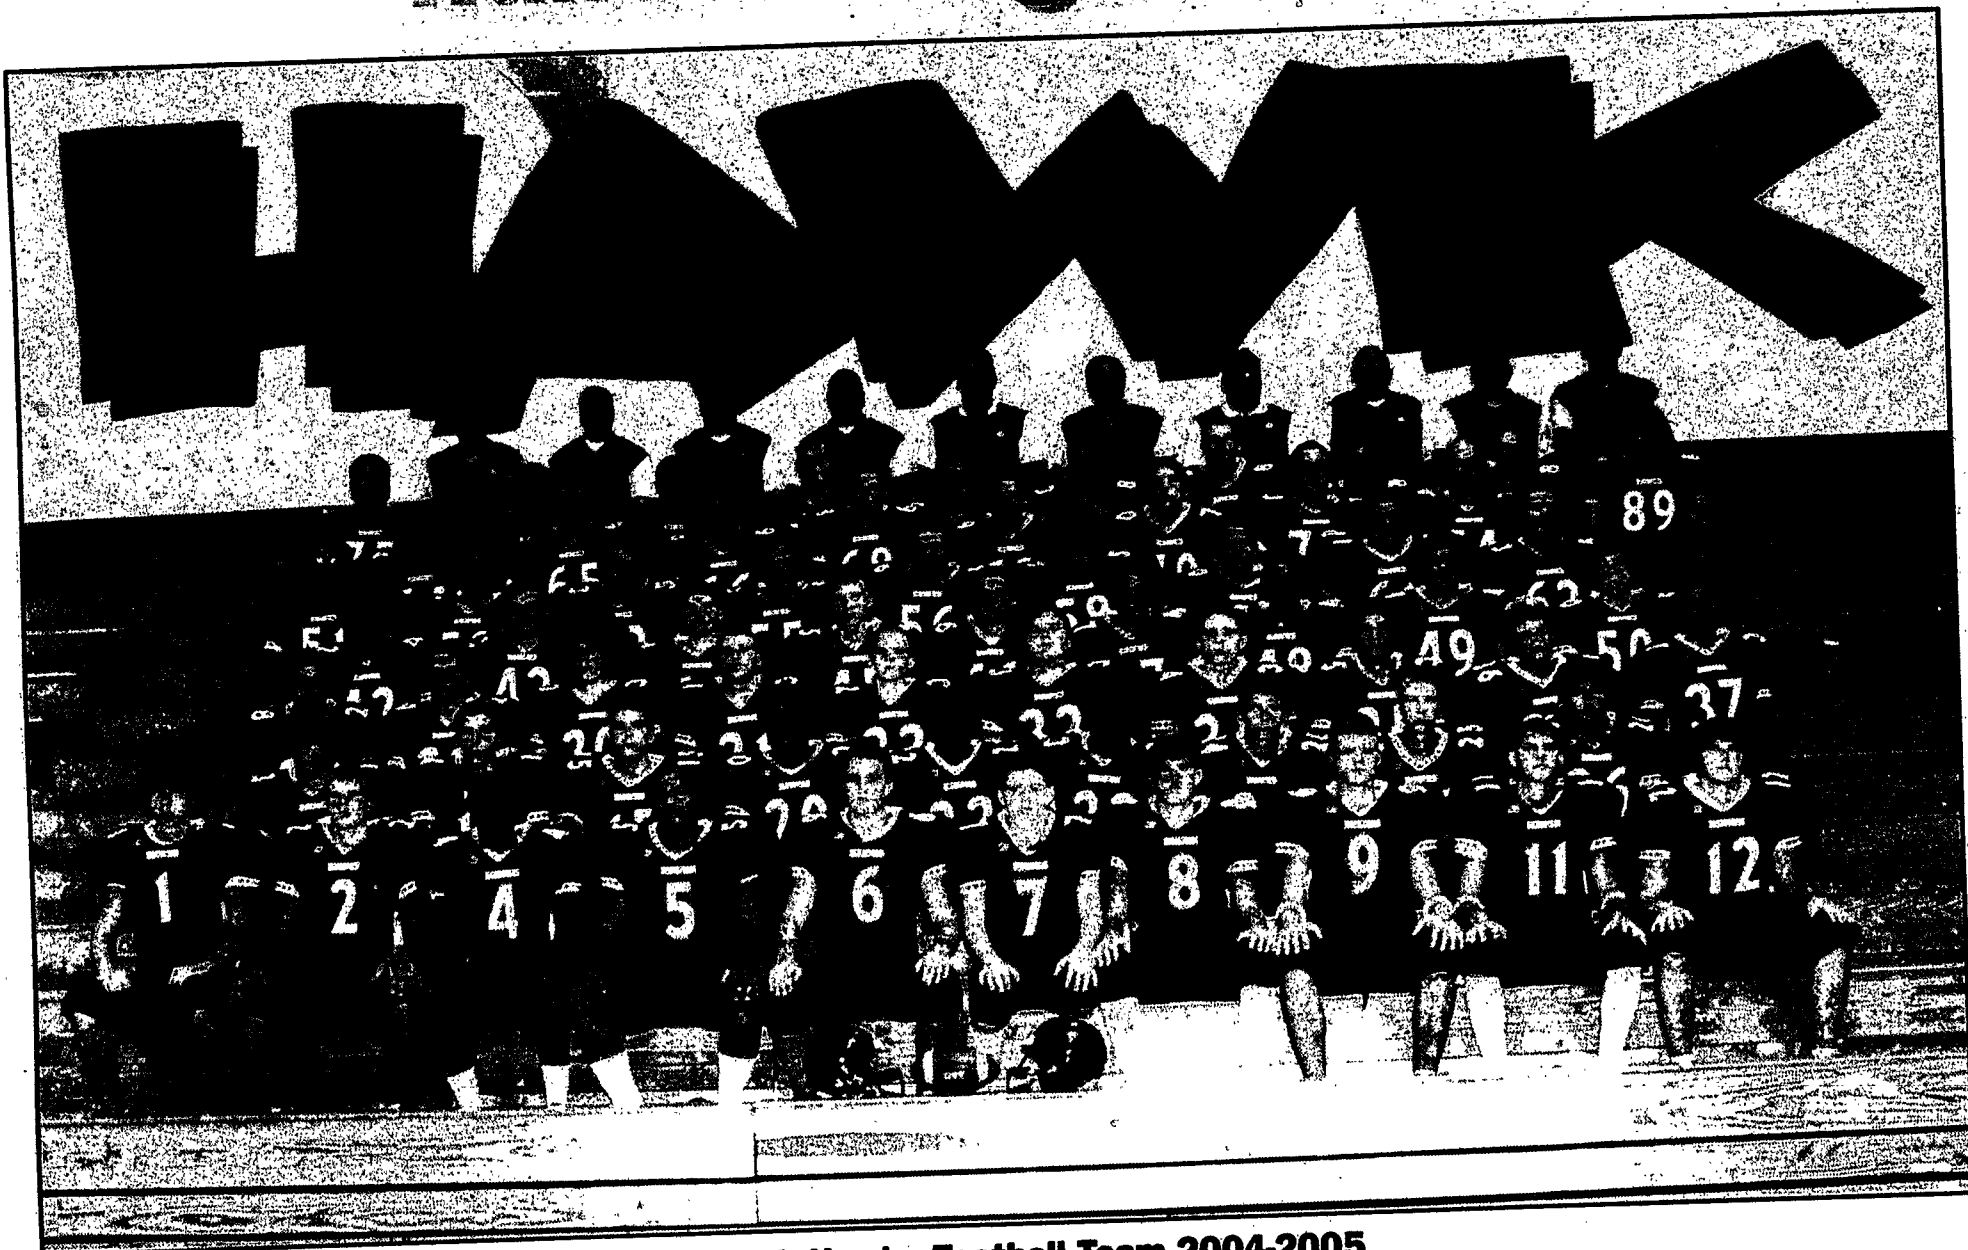

The second half of the season is all district games, starting with two games on the road at Gautier and D'Iberville. The Tigers then

Hawks begin new era in '04 with Esslinger's return

BY DWAYNE BREMER
Contributing Writer

The Hancock High School football program is moving on. After a tough off-season, which saw the Hawks lose a beloved head coach and a star player, the Hawks are looking forward to another football season with optimism.

Gone is longtime head coach Rocky Gaudin and star tight end Steven Dauenhauer.

Gaudin, who gave over 20 years of service to the school, resigned earlier this summer due to a dispute with two of the school board members. Gaudin led the Hawks to seven winning seasons in the past nine years, as well as four bowl games. Gaudin has since taken the head coach's job at Mercy Cross high school in Biloxi.

Dauenhauer, a three year starter, has transferred to Bay High for his senior season.

Instead of talking about who is not there, however, the 2004 Hawks will field a team that still has plenty of talent, as well as some exciting newcomers.

Taking over as head coach is Walt Esslinger. Esslinger, was the head coach of the Hawks in 2000, leading the Hawks to an 8-3 record, and a Shrimp Bowl berth. Esslinger left after that year to take a job at Florin High School, in Sacramento Ca. After the departure of Gaudin, Esslinger was given the head coach job in June.

"It feels great to be back at Hancock. The people here are great, and I'm really excited about the upcoming season," Esslinger said recently.

The 2004 Hawks will be a younger team with only 11 seniors on the roster.

The Hawks will have six starters returning on offense and three on defense.

OFFENSE

On offense, the Hawks will have plenty of experience up front. They'll have a powerful offensive line led by Senior center Scott Nesom. Nesom (6,01, 255), who has started since his ninth grade year, will be joined by two year starters Russell Tanguis (5,10, 220) and Travis Hall (6,00, 280). Kalan Cuevas (6,02, 270) is a returning starter, and Colin Miller (6,02, 296) will round out the line.

"I think that our line is our best unit," Esslinger said.

The Hawks have quarterback Braxton Necaise back behind center in 2004.

Necaise, a junior, started five games for the Hawks last year. At running backs, the Hawks will rely on a more inexperienced group. Ronnie Thomas, who saw limited action in 2003, will be the starter. Tenth-grader Andrew Smith, also will get a chance to carry the ball along with Senior Andrew Warihay.

"Andrew Smith is a young guy, but he has the ability to be really good," Esslinger said.

The Hawks will have Justin Kopf returning at wide receiver, as well as freshman Chase McIver. Anthony Lind, who had a lot of playing time in 2003, will start as tight end.

DEFENSE

On defense, the Hawks will rely heavily on senior Jonathan Lacoste.

Lacoste, a three-year starter, is coming off a big season in 2003, in which he had more than 50 tackles.

"Jonathan is our leader out there, and our most experienced guy. We hope he can influence the younger guys," said defensive coach Andy Pernicario.

The defensive line will have experience with E.J. Jarvis (5,11, 250), and Donovan Saucier (6,03, 290). Kevin Lafontaine, Chance Seals and Adam Dulane will see plenty of action as well.

Along with Lacoste, the linebacker corps will feature Corey O'Rear, Tim Schaffer, Alex Toups and Chris

Stanislaus Football sports tradition and legacy in '04

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

Since the end of the 2003 season for the Rocks, SSC has enjoyed tremendous post-season success in basketball, soccer, tennis, golf, sailing, and track and field.

Tradition has always been rich at SSC and legacies run generations deep. This year, SSC sports 16 legacies on the gridiron roster 9th thru 12th grade. Plus, there are four coaches with ties to the program. Jordan Ellis, Lance

SSC head coach Casey Wittmann, a

Legacy himself, said, "St. Stanislaus College has great tradition in all aspects of the school. We want to make sure that those traditions and values stay alive in this program. I am beginning to coach players who I played football with their fathers. Tradition has a lot to do with our success here at SSC. It is exciting for these fathers, uncles, and brothers to be with their children and relatives. It is also a credit to those men who brought these young players up to understand and love this game."

Many of these legacies will provide the foundation to build on last season's runner-up finish in Division 8 Class 4A and state playoff appearance. In 2003, the Rocks were 5-6 overall and 4-2 in the division. On the offensive side of the ball is where the Rocks have the most holes to fill. Defensively, SSC returns 9 of 11 starters.

The Rocks will look to replace departed quarterback Timmy Kulikowski who will be taking snaps in Poplarville for the defending state JUCO champion PRCC Wildcats. Kulikowski was an All-Echo performer who threw for 1,115 yards and 9 touchdowns. Lance Cuevas is the heir apparent as the Rocks' signal caller. Also, the Rocks will need to replace FB Matt Hoda who starred in the Mississippi High School All-Star game. Hoda rushed for a team high 699 yards and 9 touchdowns. Splitting time at fullback will Lee Klein and Jordan Ellis.

However, the most overlooked area of concern has to be the offensive line where the Rocks lost three starters in Bob Bass, Nick Weinmann and Herman Johnson. Caleb McQueen and J.C. Brignone are the only starters returning with significant playing time on the line.

On special teams, two-year letter winner and All-Echo selection Michael Kivlan has moved on to Bellarmine University in Kentucky. The Rocks will be looking to fill the void at placekicker and punter left by Kivlan's graduation.

SSC returns a small but talented group of seniors that have taken the leadership reigns on the team. SSC head coach Casey Wittmann stated, "We do not have a large senior class on this team. But, the ones we do have are quality student athletes who are leaders. They have all asked to be team captains for the season which shows their dedication as a group to seeing this team succeed. Offensively, we have some gaps to fill such as quarterback, fullback and the offensive line. However, we feel good about returning 9 of 11 starters on the defense. Hopefully, the defense will help shoulder some of the load until the offense catches up."

SSC returns all five linebackers that saw significant playing time last season. There is no doubt that the linebackers are the strength of the SSC defense as they return a group that recorded 389 total tackles in 2003.

Some newcomers expected to touch the turf during the season are RB/CB Josh

Wittmann commented on his team, "We do not have a lot of guys out between 10th and 12th grade - only 35 guys. However, we have a much stronger and faster team than we have had here before. There are nine players benching over 300 pounds. And, 19 of the 35 players are running sub-5.0

40-yard dashes. That is a major improvement from three years ago when we started. At that time, there was only one player with a sub-5.0 time. Depth is something we will have to contend with all season long. The new weightroom is paying huge dividends for us and the team is maturing.

"The players participated in 7-on-7 practices with Gulfport High School over the summer and they attended a 7-on-7 camp at LSU. The weightroom routines were performed on four of the five days during the week with performance tests throughout the summer. We also put them through some yoga classes to assist with flexibility and body control. The players are rising to the challenges and expectations we have put before them. It is an exciting time to be around the players and to be a Rock-a-chaw."

The Rocks will once again feature a balanced offensive attack with multiple sets. Wittmann said the team is ahead in the passing game as compared to his past teams; however, the fundamental principle of the offense is establishing the run. On defense, the Rocks will employ a base-35 look. However, he added that the players are adept with the defensive schemes and will make adjustments to even the front line out in game situations.

The Rocks also have some players that are drawing attention from the next level as they enter their senior campaigns. Lee Klein, Jordan Ellis, Mike Cure and Stephan Sofianos are the ones drawing the most interest.

Klein (5-11, 215lbs) is a linebacker by trade but has seen success on the offensive side of the ball in the backfield. Earlier in the summer at a camp at USM, he was clocked at a 4.41 in the 40-yard dash. He benches 380 pounds and squats 500 pounds. Any questions about his height went out the window with his 40-time. Klein also ranked #3 out of 250-plus invited athletes at the Nike camp at LSU in April. He is a full academic qualifi-

Pirates expect to build on last year's playoff success

BY MAURICE SINGLETON
Contributing Writer

The Pass High Pirates are setting their sights on making the playoffs for the fourth consecutive year. Having squeaked into playoffs with 4-7 records each of the past two seasons, first year head coach, Kelly Causey has different ideas on how he would like the 2004 Pirates to achieve that.

"Obviously our goal is to make the playoffs," Causey explained, "but I would love to play a home game during the playoffs."

To host a playoff game, a 4-7 record will probably not be good enough. So Causey has come into the Pass High football program and implemented an accountability system, an attitude adjustment - which requires each player to take responsibility for himself and his actions on and off the field. The accountability is evident in the tidiness of the dressing room and the organized way shoes, uniforms and helmetts are stored in the lockers along the walls.

"That's all part of it; discipline is a big part of it," Causey added. "Being at practice, not missing practice, out there on the football field and in the weight room. Study hall on Thursdays is required for students who are struggling academically. There're not many of them; we have good academic students here."

"I don't play favorites; I treat each one like he is the star of the football team. The kids have accepted my philosophy with open arms," Causey added "I think that's important. They're all as important as the guy next them."

In addition to the discipline, Causey says that he has good senior leadership that has supported what he is trying to do: "Frederick Wiley and Gary Isabelle have really stepped it up and have taken control," Causey pointed out two of his ten seniors.

stirred optimism.

"We're a step ahead offensively," said Causey.

The Pirates will run a multiple option offense, similar to what the Pirates ran during the past couple of seasons. "But we'll run the triple option."

Sophomore Chad Moore is the starting quarterback. "He's got good feet; he is a good athlete."

Jaren Bowser returns at the fullback spot after rushing for approximately 800 yards in 2003. "He's going to be our workhorse. He'll get his share of totes in our offense."

When Moore elects to pass, his primary targets will be tight end Brandon Miller or the wide receiver, Brandon Wiley.

On the other side of the ball, the Pirates will execute a "40 Defense." "We're going to be very aggressive. Our goal will be to stop the run and force teams to throw it."

The defense will be expecting a great deal out of the defensive line, anchored by A.J. Swanier at nose tackle, and Dahlyn Saucier and Miller at the ends. "Up front will be the strength of our defense," said Causey. "They're quick."

The Pirates open the season on the road at Stone County before hosting Long Beach and St. John. They then play six consecutive district games, beginning at Bay High then hosting Gautier and D'Iberville (homecoming).

They travel to St. Stanislaus then host East Central for senior night. Vancleave the following week is the final district game. The Pirates close out the regular season at Pearl River Central.

Pass High's home games and the Stone County, D'Iberville and Gautier games kick off at 7:30 p.m. Bay High, St. Stanislaus and Pearl River Central kick off at 7:00 p.m.

MACJC grid champ Pearl River enters fall ranked No. 5 in NJCAA preseason

THE SEA COAST ECHO
The defending MACJC state champ Pearl River Wildcats will enter the 2004 season with a No. 5 national ranking after finishing fourth in last year's final NJCAA poll.

PRCC is one of six MACJC teams that attracted the attention of the national community college pollsters with perennial powerhouse Northwest leading the way with a No. 2 preseason ranking. The Wildcats swept the talented Rangers last season, taking a hard-fought 17-7 regular-season victory on the road, then returned to Senatobia to pounce Northwest 31-7 in the opening-round of the MACJC playoffs.

Hinds, which Pearl River defeated 21-17 for its record 17th state championship last November in Raymond, was ranked No. 13 in the 2004 preseason poll, while nearby Jones in Ellisville was 20th.

Mississippi Delta in Moorhead and Southwest in Summit also received votes in the poll.

The Wildcats finished No. 4 in the final NJCAA 2003 poll last fall, while Hinds finished 12th.

PRCC opens its 2004 season with five straight Thursday-night games, including back-to-back non-division home games against Itawamba and East Mississippi on Sept. 2 and Sept. 9, respectively.

Six straight division contests follow against Copiah-Lincoln (Thursday, Sept. 16) in Wesson, East Central (Thursday, Sept. 23) in Poplarville, Hinds (Thursday, Sept. 30) in Raymond, Jones (Saturday, Oct. 9) in Poplarville, Southwest Mississippi (Saturday, Oct. 16) in Summit, and Mississippi Gulf Coast (Thursday, Oct. 21) in Poplarville.

Southern Miss looking for a fast start

BY JOEDY MCCREARY
Associated Press Writer

Southern Mississippi didn't find its groove until the seventh game last season. This year, coach Jeff Bower says the Golden Eagles can't wait nearly that long.

Not with an early season schedule that ranks among the toughest in school history. And certainly not in Conference USA, which figures to be rigorous in the final season of its present configuration.

"If you're going to be good, you've got to have 11 guys doing their job" on each side, Bower said. "We just can't wait until midseason to jump-start. We've got to do it the first ball game."

Southern Miss started slowly last year, opening 3-3 before closing the regular season with six straight wins to clinch a record fourth C-USA championship in the league's eight year history. But the Golden Eagles were waxed 17-0 by Mountain West champion Utah in the Liberty Bowl.

It was Southern Miss' first loss in that bowl in three appearances, and being blanked by the Utes is motivating the Golden Eagles to play for a return trip to Memphis in December.

"To make it is one thing. To not win, that kind of pulls you down a little bit," linebacker Michael Boley said. "You just try to look for that extra motivator to get back and win."

The road to a repeat league title starts with two huge non-conference roadblocks.

Southern Miss opens the season Sept. 11 at perennial power Nebraska. Five days later, the Golden Eagles return to Hattiesburg for a nationally televised home opener against California.

And sandwiched in a wide-open Conference USA schedule is a road trip to struggling Southeastern Conference power Alabama. Those three non-conference foes held Southern Miss to a combined 19 points last season.

"I don't know anybody who is playing a tougher start" to the season, Bower said. "We've got to get good quick."

A change at quarterback during an offensively challenged loss to the Crimson Tide marked the end of the Golden Eagles' offensive struggles last season.

Dustin Almond replaced freshman Damion Carter midway through that Alabama loss, then started the final seven games, including the bowl.

The improvement under Almond was spectacular: Southern Miss averaged 35 points and nearly 400 yards in its final six regular-season games — more than 21 points and 100 yards better per game than the Golden Eagles averaged in the first six.

Nine starters return on offense, and the players are counting on more productivity this season.

"As an offense, we've got a high expectation right now, (to gain) more yards," Almond said.

Bower's main offensive concern is beefing up his receiving corps, which returns starters DaRon Lawrence and Marvin Young.

While Bower might tinker with the lineup to finagle a faster start, he isn't rewriting the Golden Eagles' playbook.

"The worst thing you can do is do too much," Bower said. "We've got to continue on working on what we're doing."

Defense has been Southern Miss' identity in recent seasons, but Bower has a rebuilding job on his hands.

Only four starters return on a unit which led C-USA in scoring defense last year. All four starters in the secondary are gone, including all-league selections Etric Pruett and Greg Brooks, who now are in NFL camps.

"I believe in defense. I believe that's where you put your best athletes," Bower said. "If you can play good defense, you've got a chance to win championships every year, and we've developed a tradition of being good defensively. ... When you lose some seniors and some good players, you've got some young players to step in, and they know what's expected of them, and they rise to the challenge."

Boley and third-team AP All-America selection Rod Davis were a formidable one-two punch at linebacker. With Davis gone to the pros, Boley expects more attention from opponents this season — and more opportunities for his teammates.

"The last couple of seasons, the focus has been on Rod, and that's kind of freed me up to make plays," Boley said. Opponents "are going to try to do the same thing to me this year."

Southern Miss has been the most successful program in Conference USA history, and this year marks the Golden Eagles' last chance at dominance before the league is watered down.

Louisville and Cincinnati are leaving for the Big East in 2005, while TCU jumps to the Mountain West. Replacing those schools are Marshall, Rice, SMU, Tulsa and UTEP.

The Cardinals are favored to win C-USA in their final year. TCU wants to leave the conference as a winner. Memphis figures to be loaded. UAB is solid. And Southern Miss can't be counted out, either.

"There's a number of teams, probably more so than any other year, that's got a chance to win the league," Bower said. "Who knows?"

Matthews.

The defensive backs will consist of Paul Verdin, Mark Fairley, Justin Williams, and a few others. The Hawks should be better on special teams this year, as kicker Justin Ratcliff returns, and Verdin will handle the punting for a second straight year.

THE COACHES

The Hawks coaching staff has remained in tact for the most part. Andy Pernicario will coach the defense, and Bill Chimento will coach the defensive backs. Tony Williams will coach the line-backers, Michael Gaudin will coach the offensive line, and Gary Sims will coach the wide receivers.

Bo Vonderbruegge, who has been a successful head coach, is coaching the running backs and quarterback.

Mark Willimas, Shawn Keener, and Dave Richrdson will also be assistant coaches, as well as coaching the junior varsity teams.

"We have a great coaching staff, I feel fortunate to have these guys around me," Esslinger said.

The challenges that lay ahead for the Hawks will not be easy. The Hawks will play in the brutally tough region 3-5A, by far the best region in the state.

The Hawks will have home games against, Long Beach, Gulfport, Brandon, Oak Grove, Natchez, and Hattiesburg. The Hawks will travel to Biloxi, Ocean Springs, North West Rankin, Picayune and Meridian.

"It's not going to be easy, but we're looking forward to the challenge," Esslinger said.

er with potential suitors of Illinois, Arkansas, Louisiana Tech, Nebraska and USM. Klein is on the verge of setting the all-time tackles record at SSC. He has 352 total tackles entering 2004 after recording 133 total tackles last season. Cameron Byrne, class of 2001, is the current record holder with 501 total tackles.

Jordan Ellis (6-2, 230lbs) is also a linebacker but will get his fair share of time on the offensive side of things this season as a fullback. Ellis has the proto-typical size that scouts look for and he is a full academic qualifier, as well. Ellis is being closely recruited as a fullback by Mississippi State and USM while LSU is seeking his services as a possible linebacker. Several other schools are in the mix for Ellis' talents who deadlifts 600-lbs and squats 450.

Michael Cure (5-11, 206lbs) is a no-nonsense hard-working athlete who lines up at wingback and linebacker. Cure has caught the eyes of such Ivy League schools as Columbia, Harvard, Princeton, and the University of Pennsylvania. He is a full academic qualifier with a 4.22 GPA and a 30 on the ACT. He attended camp at both Harvard and Princeton over the summer. Cure has recorded a 360-lb bench and 520-lb deadlift. Cure is currently third on the career receiving yardage list with 1,093 yards following his 2003 production of 756 yards. He ranks behind 1989 alumnus Freddie Wirstrom (1,192 yards) and 2002 alumnus Gabe Willis (1,366 yards).

Stephan Sofianos (6-1, 185lbs) is a split end and linebacker for the Rocks. He has been clocked in the 40-yard dash at 4.56 and is a full academic qualifier with a 3.7 GPA and a 24 on the ACT. Southeastern Louisiana in Hammond has shown the most interest so far in Sofianos; however, the coaches feel he could be the sleeper of the class. Hal Mumme, the former Kentucky coach, is the head man in Hammond.

"The players have really responded this summer to what we are trying to do," Wittman said. "Pre-season training has gone well. We are eager to get the season started. The players know that they have to come to play each and every day to get ready for Friday night. We feel the district is wide open for the taking. We are looking forward to 2004."

QB Spurlock says he's the Manning at Ole Miss

BY JOEDY MCCREARY
Associated Press Writer

A season after Mississippi unexpectedly claimed a share of its first Southeastern Conference divisional championship, coach David Cutcliffe is entering the post-Manning era with an inexperienced, but talented, junior quarterback.

Sound familiar?

It first happened six years ago at Tennessee, where as offensive coordinator, Cutcliffe replaced Peyton Manning with seldom-tested Tee Martin and won a second straight SEC Eastern Division title.

Now, Cutcliffe is entering the second post-Manning era of his career with Micheal Spurlock playing the part of Martin and the game plan is almost the same.

Just as he did after Peyton Manning left, Cutcliffe is rewriting his offensive playbook — one that for three seasons allowed Peyton's kid brother, Eli, to break or tie 45 school passing records — with rushing plays scripted for Spurlock, a mobile quarterback with limited experience but tremendous potential, Cutcliffe says.

And while nobody's predicting a repeat of history — the 1998 Volunteers won the national championship the month after Cutcliffe left for Ole Miss — the coach says at least the teams' offensive philosophies will be similar.

"Spurlock and Tee Martin are similar athletes, so, yes, in some regards, we will draw on some of the things we did with that type of quarterback in our offense," Cutcliffe said. "But we have taken it another step. Micheal will be more involved than (Martin was)."

Both Spurlock and Martin threw exactly eight career passes apiece before replacing their respective Mannings, and though Spurlock exudes confidence, he also admits to feeling somewhat jittery about the pressure that comes with being the team's leader.

"I don't think the nerves will ever be behind me," he said.

His teammates insist they're believers. Lineman Doug Buckles was convinced when he saw Spurlock dominate a high school game years ago.

And a retooled offense suited to Spurlock's strengths should make the transition easier, provided the heavy-hitting linebackers in the SEC aren't pounding him on every quarterback draw.

"He won't run like a fullback; he needs to run like a quarterback, meaning he can avoid as many hits as possible when he gets in those situations," Cutcliffe said.

This offseason, the Rebels lost a lot more than a Manning.

Gone are their leading receiver (Chris Collins), leading rusher (Tremaine Turner) and five of six starters on the defensive front.

Plus, defensive lineman McKinley Boykin has been hobbled with knee problems, and middle linebacker Ken Bournes was dismissed from the team for academic issues and for his involvement in an alleged summertime gun-waving incident in Memphis, Tenn.

Brian Lester, who slides into Bournes' vacated spot, said the remaining Rebels will pick up the slack.

"We have the talent (and) the speed to take care of business," Lester said.

And, an All-American candidate at kicker. Possibly lost in the Manning mayhem, defending Lou Groza Award winner Jonathan Nichols has made 98 straight conversion kicks — nearly doubling the previous school record of 59 — and led the SEC by making 25-of-29 field goals last year.

"Success depends on what the team does," Nichols said. "If I win it, it'd be a great achievement. But it's team success."

As a team, Ole Miss is out to change its identity this season.

The Rebels have been a perennial middle-of-the-pack SEC team, typically good for seven wins — they've had at least that many every season since 1996 — and a spot in a minor bowl.

Last year, that changed.

Picked to finish fifth in the division, Ole Miss won seven of its last eight regular season games, split the SEC West title with BCS champion LSU and beat Oklahoma State in the Cotton Bowl for its first win in January since 1969.

For a change, the Rebels are the hunted, not the hunters. And Cutcliffe conducted his toughest offseason program since his arrival in Oxford in 1998, to find out how his team will handle that position.

"Comfort the afflicted, afflict the comfortable," Cutcliffe said. "We didn't want anybody to be comfortable. ... If your players don't expect to win and if your fans don't expect to win, then there is something wrong with your program. The challenge is to respond to the expectations."

There's generally only one way for teams at the top to go, but Spurlock says the Rebels still haven't peaked. And after Ole Miss' taste of prominence a year ago, he said there's only one way for this season to be considered a success.

"At the end of the season," he said, "we're not co-champions."

"We're champions."

Croom hopes to change losing culture at MS State

BY JOEDY MCCREARY
Associated Press Writer

The only recent things more closely identifiable with Mississippi State than those clanging cowbells have been bad football and worse results.

Defeats have come in all sorts of ways — agonizingly close setbacks, embarrassingly lopsided routs, to opponents powerful and puny — and they've come in bunches.

The second-worst team in the Southeastern Conference since 2000 — thank goodness for Vanderbilt — Mississippi State has lost 27 of its last 35 games.

This year's seniors have been over .500 for exactly one week during their previous three years. They won the season opener as freshmen, then lost five in a row and haven't tasted a winning record since.

"We've been down so long, there's nowhere to go but up," junior tailback Jerious Norwood said.

After a season in which the Bulldogs ranked last in the SEC in 14 team statistical categories, including total offense and total defense, and had as many shutout losses (two) as total victories, change was overdue.

Enter Sylvester Croom, the highly regarded longtime NFL assistant with a new offense, a new attitude and the knack for turning the downtrodden Bulldogs into believers.

"If we do what coach Croom says, we're going to end up winning a championship, sometime," Norwood said. "But a winning season just ain't going to show up. We've got to keep working every day."

Croom scrapped former coach Jackie Sherrill's multiple offense in favor of a controlled, West Coast-passing scheme theoretically designed to take advantage of a mobile quarterback who can make quick decisions in throwing bullet passes to speedy receivers expected to turn short receptions into longer gains.

He said the offense is essentially the same one orchestrated by Brett Favre and the Green Bay Packers, for whom Croom was an assistant from 2001-03.

The key to the West Coast offense is yards after the catch, Croom said. "You get it out quick, you eliminate sacks. You eliminate sacks, you eliminate turnovers."

That's exactly what Mississippi State needs. The Bulldogs gave up the second-most sacks (36) in the SEC last year and led the league with 40 giveaways.

Fortunately for the Bulldogs, there aren't too many players who were around from the start of the swoon.

Only five seniors are listed as starters on the post-spring depth chart. Croom said his freshmen will ditch their red-shirts if they're good enough to play 20-30 snaps per game.

"We're going to get them ready like rookies in the NFL," Croom said.

And projected starting quarterback Omarr Conner, a sophomore who played receiver last year in his first year out of high school, said having a season's experience should make him a better passer.

"I know what a receiver should be, because I played receiver," Conner said. "It taught me where a receiver is supposed to go."

McKinley Scott, Ray Ray Bivines and redshirt freshman Joey Sanders will be Conner's primary targets.

Noriwood and Fred Reid are being counted upon to be productive as runners and as receivers out of the backfield. The West Coast offense, though predicated on passing, relies on a rushing game for balance.

"We want to run whatever we want to run," Croom said.

"We don't care what (the defense is) doing."

Seven starters return to a Mississippi State defense that ranked 113th nationally among 117 Division I-A teams in total defense, and was last in the SEC. The defense was equally horrendous against both the run and the pass.

The Bulldogs are breaking in a new placekicker, sophomore Keith Andrews, while senior punter Jared Cook at least has had plenty of practice throughout the last three seasons.

But this season isn't totally being judged by wins and losses.

Croom is setting the foundation for what he hopes is sustained success at Mississippi State.

"There's a reason we haven't won, and it isn't any one thing," Croom said. "The attitude has got to change. The talent level isn't up to snuff for SEC-caliber winning players."

Ultimately, he's not teaching the Bulldogs how to play so much as he's teaching them how to win.

"Our kids are learning the discipline that we need to win," Croom said. "We don't have a lot of room for errors. Our depth is not where it needs to be."

"We will be working to get out of the middle of the road," he said. "We intend to move to the upper echelon of the conference."

A bounty hunter 'Dogs' his prey in reality show

By Jay Bobbin

Reality TV is suddenly getting a bounty of bounty hunters.

Next month, HBO debuts "Family Bonds," about a clan of self-styled trackers of fugitives. First, though, A&E Network introduces "Dog the Bounty Hunter." Premiering Tuesday, Aug. 31, the unscripted series follows the exploits of colorful ex-con Duane "Dog" Chapman - one of the men responsible for the capture of Max Factor heir Andrew Luster, who fled to Mexico during his rape trial.

The show follows Chapman not only through his felon-finding missions, but also through his personal relationships. His wife Beth, his fellow-bounty-hunter son Leland, his friend and professional associate Tim, and the three young children of Dog and Beth all figure into the program. The cameramen just have to stay out of the way, and the action takes care of itself.

"Faith is the secret weapon of the bounty hunter," Chapman asserts. "If you're going after a guy for sexual assault on a child, you try not to hit him a little harder, but there's something inside you called 'human being' and you just have to control yourself, because the camera's rolling and there are consequences."

Indeed, the presence of a camera crew has the potential to influence Chapman's work, but he maintains that isn't the case: "We build this relationship and camaraderie, but they never get in the way. It's kind of like if you've ever been to war. We become this brotherhood. I say (to the cameraman), 'Andrew, watch it. He's coming. And he's like, 'Go, Dog, go!'

Chapman is certain his background, which saw him sentenced for first-degree murder in the mid-1970s ("I was there in the car, the guy went to the door, committed the crime and came back") has fueled his effectiveness in bounty hunting. "I was the only person in Texas ever paroled on a murder," he reflects. "Absolutely, it helps you track these guys down when you know how they think, how they act, what their weaknesses are. That's why we've done more captures than any police department in America. We know what makes them tick."

"XXVIII Summer Olympics" Sunday, Aug. 29 (NBC, 7 p.m. ET):

Like the extravagant gala that ushered in the 28th Summer Olympics, details regarding how the curtain will be drawn are shrouded in secrecy. However the night unfolds, a safe assumption is the Closing Ceremony promises to be one of the most spectacular ever, given that Athens is the Mecca of Olympic history. But before the torch is passed to Beijing for the 2008 Olympiad, the last gold medal is presented to the winner of the men's marathon.

"MLB Baseball" Sunday, Aug. 29 (ESPN, 8 p.m. ET): After ending the first three months 37-40, Chipper Jones and the Atlanta Braves have reverted to their old habit of taking control of the NL East. They should win the division for an incredible 13th straight season, whereupon they may clash with tonight's opponent, the San Francisco Giants, in the playoffs. A three-game series in late April between the two proved little other than how smart the Braves are: they walked Giants' slugger Barry Bonds seven times.

"PGA Golf" Friday, Sept. 3 (USA Network, 5 p.m. ET): Adam Scott proved worthy of the many kudos his game was attracting by winning the inaugural 2003 Deutsche Bank Championship. He returns to the TPC of Boston to defend his first-ever title against a field that includes Tiger Woods, who finished tied for seventh last year. Scott, a 24-year-old Australian, added the prestigious Players Championship title to his resume this season. The four-day Deutsche Bank concludes on Labor Day.

Andrew Jones and the Atlanta Braves play host to the San Francisco Giants Sunday on ESPN.

Celebrity Scoop

Ivan Sergei

By Kate O'Hare

It's pouring rain on the island of Oahu as actor Ivan Sergei pulls into the parking lot to start his day's work on the new NBC police-action drama "Hawaii," premiering Wednesday, Sept. 1.

"It's one of those things that you don't expect in Hawaii," he says. "But it's always like that. We'll be outside, it'll be bright sunshine, then five minutes later, it's pouring rain."

Sergei plays Detective Danny Edwards of the Honolulu police Department, an unpredictable provocateur whose more cautious partner, Chris Gaines (Eric Balfour), tries to keep him in line.

In real life, though, Balfour is an outspoken nightclub deejay and rock musician, while Sergei is a thoughtful writer/director who's uncomfortable in the spotlight.

"I think that Eric has more of an aspiration to be an actor and be a celebrity actor than I do," Sergei says, "and I have more aspiration to get behind the scenes."

So if there's an opportunity for Balfour's Gaines to burst through a suspect's door while Edwards hangs behind, that's not a problem for Sergei.

"Everybody wants to be the star of something," he says, "and I guess that's why you go into acting in the first place. But my aspirations are to be behind the scenes and not the one garnering all the attention."

Sergei has had writer-producer deals with Warner Bros., and wrote, produced and directed a 25-minute short film called "Rebellion," starring Pruitt Taylor and Vince and Patrick Dampsey.

Sergei shares his excitement. "They're going to allow me to direct one of the episodes on 'Hawaii,' which is a pretty big deal, because these episodes are expensive. It would be either the back nine of first season or second season."

Birthplace: Hawthorne, N.J., on May 7, making him a Taurus.

Ethnicity: Despite his Russian-sounding name, this red-blooded American is of Italian and Dutch descent.

Height: 6'4", making him a veritable giant in a world of largely medium-height (or less) actors.

Most notorious film project: The unfortunately titled 1998 TV movie "Mother, May I Sleep With Danger?" in which he played the aforementioned hazardous boyfriend to Toni Spelling.

Cooler film project: The 1998 indie cult hit "The Opposite of Sex," with Christina Ricci.

Home life: Wife Tonya, and three dogs.

'Father of the Pride' springs to life on NBC

By Kate O'Hare
© Zap2it

Fans of the 1988 feature film "Who Framed Roger Rabbit" and Warner Bros. Animation's 1990s animated series "Tiny Toon Adventures" and "The Animaniacs" are very familiar with the conceit that animated characters are merely actors who go on with their offstage lives just as human performers do.

A similar idea is at work in "Father of the Pride," the new NBC animated series from DreamWorks Animation, which produced the fabulously successful "Shrek" and "Shrek 2" movies (which take fairy tale creatures and give them lives outside of storybooks). The series borrows much of its rich, layered look and three-dimensional computer-animation technology from those films - but aims for a considerably older audience.

"Shrek" has a lot of great adult humor," executive producer Jonathan Groff says, "but ours is an adult show. We're not trying to make little kids laugh."

Premiering Tuesday, Aug. 31 (paired with "Scrubs"), "Father of the Pride" follows the offstage lives of the animals that appear in Siegfried & Roy's spectacular stage show at Las Vegas' Mirage Resort. They live in the Secret Garden animal compound on the hotel grounds, which is vastly larger, more elaborate and more populated than the real thing.

At the show's center is a family of white lions: dad Larry (voice by John Goodman), a working-stiff sort; wife Kate (Cheryl Hines), teenage daughter Sierra (Danielle Andrea Harris) and son Hunter (Daryl Sabara). Dropping by frequently is Kate's father, Sammi (his name is an anagram for "Siegfried and Roy, Masters of the Impossible," and he's voiced by Carl Reiner), a balding, Rat Pack-esque lion captured in "Africa," who looks down on zoo-bred Larry.

There's also Larry's best pal, the fast-talking gopher Snack (Orlando Jones).

Among the other inhabitants are an Indian elephant and his turkey roommate (JUST roommates, he emphasizes nervously), a tasty flamingo who insists on "playing the pink card," some hip primates (including a chimp who has a brief, pheromone-driven attraction to Siegfried), and snooty, pampered white tigers Blake and Victoria (John O'Hurley, Wendie Malick).

Also wandering in and out are Siegfried & Roy (voiced by Julian Holloway and Dave Herman), whose flamboyance and eccentricity even exceeds the image of their flesh-and-blood counterparts.

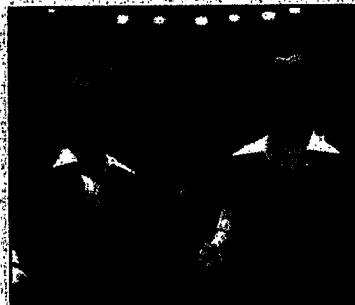

"It's sort of adult," Reiner says. "It's at nine o'clock, thank goodness. Little kids will watch it because it looks cute, lions walking around, but every once in a while they'll say, 'Daddy, Mommy, what's foreplay?' It will give the parents an opportunity to instruct their children about things they don't know, make up a story or tell the truth, depending on how old the child is."

"There's no question about this stuff being funny and well-written. They treat subjects that you would treat with regular people. It's got the writing, the whole package."

"It's a luxury to get a funny script," says Hines, who also stars with Larry David on HBO's "Curb Your Enthusiasm." "Oddly enough, both of my fictitious husbands are named Larry. It's a sure sign that I should never have married anyone named Larry, because my TV husbands - no offense - leave a lot to be desired."

"I was blown away," Jones says, "by the idea of doing the sort of animation we've seen in 'Toy Story' and 'Monsters, Inc.' and 'Shrek' on TV. That took a while for me to wrap my head around."

The real Siegfried & Roy show was a particular favorite of DreamWorks co-founder (with David Geffen and Steven Spielberg) Jeffrey Katzenberg, who created "Father of the Pride" and shares executive producer credit with writer Jon Pollack, Groff (who developed it) and Peter Mehlman. Katzenberg loves the stage show so much, he's seen it 14 times.

Premiering Tuesday on NBC, the animated comedy "Father of the Pride" follows the adventures of Las Vegas magicians Siegfried (left) & Roy, and the offstage lives of the animals that appear in their show.

"They are this combination of genuine brilliance and talent as magicians," Katzenberg says.

In real life, an onstage tiger attack on Roy Horn closed down the show last October, which caused obvious concern at DreamWorks, where work on the series was well under way. But Horn has made a near-miraculous recovery (less from injuries than from a stroke suffered afterwards), and gave his blessing to the show continuing. He and partner Siegfried Fischbacher are set to talk to Maria Shriver in a 90-minute special airing this fall on NBC.

According to the producers of "Father of the Pride," Horn's misfortune didn't deter test audiences.

"It needed to be a big deal to us," Pollock says, "because we had to deal with it. But in terms of the show, it was a bigger deal to the press than to the people watching it."

Consuelos is 'Missing' no more

Mark Consuelos

By Paulette Cohn
© Zap2it

Since leaving "All My Children," Kelly Ripa hasn't left the public eye. Hubby Mark Consuelos has been more low key, turning down work offers that would take him away from the family for long periods of time.

Now he is back as a series regular on the Lifetime drama "Missing." The only fly in the ointment is that the show shoots in Toronto, a 50-minute flight from Manhattan.

"My wife's been extremely supportive," he explains. "She practically kicked me out of the house, 'Go.' The limit that we put on ourselves is that I can't work on a series in Los Angeles. The 10 hours a weekend flying back and forth would take its toll."

Happily, Consuelos' schedule on "Missing" has been manageable, allowing a lot of three and four-day weekends with the family.

"We turn off the phones and spend time with the kids," he shares. "If you're in my house, it's extremely normal and tragically simple. We play board games and we watch HBO and Lifetime. We're extremely real at our house."

In other news: Former "General Hospital" and "Port Charles" star Kin Shriner joins the cast of "The Young and the Restless" on Sept. 7 as Harrison Bartlett, the estranged stepson of Arthur Hendricks. And speaking of ex-"GH" stars, Genie Francis makes a cameo appearance in "Thunderbirds," directed by her husband, Jonathan Frakes.

Dear Paulette: On "One Life to Live," maybe I've missed something along the way in the story line, but isn't River Cassie's son? Isn't Cassie Dorian's daughter? Isn't Adriana supposed to be Dorian's daughter? Which makes Cassie and Adriana half-sisters, which would make Adriana Rivers' aunt. Am I the only one who sees something wrong in this? River is being intimate with his Aunt Adriana. I really think that story line needs to be stopped. Thanks. - Cheryl H., Greencastle, Ind.

Dear Reader: River was Cassie's adopted son, not biological son. Thus, he is not Dorian's biological grandson, so Adriana isn't his biological aunt.

Soap starlet lands prime-time role at CBS

By Taylor Michaels

Q Help! What has happened to the adorable actress who used to play Belle Black on "Days of Our Lives"? There's a new face. Why? -Marie Mango, Massapequa Park, N.Y.

A Fan favorite Kirsten Storms, 20, was released from her role as Belle Black so she could accept a co-starring role in "Clubhouse," a new Aaron Spelling drama premiering in the fall on CBS.

The actress initially hoped she would be able to juggle both roles, but that proved impractical. Storms made her last "Days" appearance on July 15.

In "Clubhouse," she plays Betsy Young, the free-spirited older sister of principal teen star Pete (Jeremy Sumpter, "Peter Pan"), a boy for the fictional New York Empire. The series also stars Mare Winningham as their mother, and Dean Cain as Pete's idol and mentor at the team clubhouse.

As a footnote, while Storms' departure from "Days" was amiable, it also set off a mini-soap opera of sorts behind the scenes, where newcomer Charity Rahner was hired to take over the role of Belle, then almost immediately was fired. Another newcomer, Martha Madison, now plays the role.

Q When will HBO's "The Wire" begin a new season? -Kim Raley via e-mail.

Sunday, Sept. 19.

A: Who sings the theme song to "Sue Thomas: F.B. Eye"? -Barbara Griffin via e-mail.

Q Jessica Andrews sings "Who I Am" from her compact disc of the same title.

A: Ted Levine of "Monk" has a very distinctive voice. Is that him, uncredited, doing the voice of the vengeful trucker in the movie "Joy Ride"? -Peter in Sarasota, Fla.

A: Yes, Levine provided the voice of "Rusty Nail" in that 2001 movie thriller. And by the way: Several readers wrote to point out my recent typo that shaved years off Levine's age. The gifted actor is 46, not 36.

Movie: Breaking Away

Dennis Christopher ("Profiler") stars in this lighthearted 1979 drama as Dave, chief "spokes" man for a group of downtrodden townies who take on their university neighbors in a bicycle race. Paul Dooley steals every scene he's in as Dave's flabbergasted father, who can't fathom his son's obsession with cycling Italian-style. Barbara Barrie and Dennis Quaid also star.

Wednesday

7 p.m. on 4-CBS

5th Annual Latin Grammy Awards

Although he doesn't sing, comedian George Lopez returns to host the annual awards ceremony honoring Latinos in the music business. Nominees include Ricky Martin, La Ley, Los Tigres del Norte, Rita Lee, Tatiana, Soraya and Cafe Tacuba. The festivities take place at the Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles.

Friday

9 a.m. on HBO

Movie: Starman

Jeff Bridges received an Oscar nomination for his 1984 portrayal of a friendly alien who assumes the visage of a lonely widow's deceased spouse. The alien, uncomfortable in his new human form, asks widow Jenny Hayden (Karen Allen) to drive him to Arizona. Along the way they encounter the police and modern traffic devices, all the while avoiding the Army officer (Richard Jaeckel) who is chasing them. Charles Martin Smith and Richard Jaeckel also star.

Michael Schoeffling and Kathleen York co-star.

Saturday

Animal Telepathy

Many pet owners have believed for years that animals possess an ability to communicate with people. In this special, horse whisperer Monty Roberts discusses the methods he uses to persuade horses to be more docile. The hour also considers whether people and animals can read each other's thoughts, allowing an animal to communicate its ailment.

Saturday

11 a.m. on HBO

Movie: Emma

As Jane Austen's charming yet maddening matchmaker Emma Woodhouse, Gwyneth Paltrow test drives the Brit accent that would be heard to better, Oscar-winning effect later in "Shakespeare in Love." But the American actress holds her own against potent U.K. co-stars Ewan McGregor, Jeremy Northam, Alan Cumming, Sophie Thompson, Juliet Stevenson and Polly Walker in this 1996 comedy hit.

TV Trivia

John Larroquette ("Night Court") was the unbilled narrator of the original "Texas Chainsaw Massacre," released in 1974.

Lauren Graham ("Gilmore Girls") was born in Honolulu but raised in Virginia. She has a master's degree.

Gene Hackman ("Enemy of the State") was considered for the role of wise patriarch Mike Brady in "The Brady Bunch."

William Peter Blatty ("Gunn") quit his job and wrote "The Exorcist" after winning $10,000 on the game show "You Bet Your Life."

Debbie Reynolds ("Halloweentown") calls herself "the oldest living Girl Scout." She has paid her $2 annual dues since she was a child.

XXVIII Summer Olympics

Like the extravagant gala that ushered in the 28th Summer Olympics, details regarding how the curtain will be drawn are shrouded in secrecy. However the night unfolds, a safe assumption is the Closing Ceremony promises to be one of the most spectacular ever, given that Athens is the Mecca of Olympic history. But before the torch is passed to Beijing for the 2008 Olympiad, the last gold medal is presented to the winner of the men's marathon.

7 p.m. on ESPN

MLB Baseball

After ending the first three months 37-40, Chipper Jones and the Atlanta Braves have reverted to their old habit of taking control of the NL East. They should win the division for an incredible 13th straight season, whereupon they may clash with tonight's opponent, the San Francisco Giants, in the playoffs. A three-game series in late April between the two proved little other than how smart the Braves are: they walked Giants' slugger Barry Bonds seven times.

7 p.m. and MTV

2004 Video Music Awards

Always a sure sign that fall is on the way, the biggest event of any MTV year is staged at a different location than usual: American Airlines Arena in Miami. Usher, Jessica Simpson, Hoobastank, Kanye West, Jet and Yellowcard — all nominees in the event — are scheduled to perform. Other artists up for the "moonman" honors include Jay-Z, Beyonce, No Doubt, OutKast, Britney Spears, Ludacris and Justin Timberlake.

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

The Casino

Las Vegas certainly is known for weddings — just ask Britney Spears or Nicky Hilton — and more nuptials mark the finale of this unscripted show's first season. A big-money gambler is ready to tie the knot, and the ceremony is preceded by a bachelor party that gets to be a bit too much for some. Matt Dusk makes an all-out bid to become the headlining performer in the Golden Nugget showroom.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

Movie: Tomorrow Never Dies

Ted Turner meets William Randolph "I'll Furnish the War" Hearst in the character of Elliot Carver (Jonathan Pryce), a media mogul who plans to start a war with China to boost ratings for his fledgling TV news channel. There's only one man who can stop him: Bond. James Bond.

8 p.m. on HBO

Six Feet Under

George (James Cromwell) doesn't share Ruth's (Frances Conroy) enthusiasm over a tantric workshop in the new episode "Bomb Shelter." David (Michael C. Hall) has a bad experience while dining out on sushi with Keith (Mathew St. Patrick). Claire and Russell (Lauren Ambrose, Ben Foster) debate who should get the credit for photos she snapped.

9 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

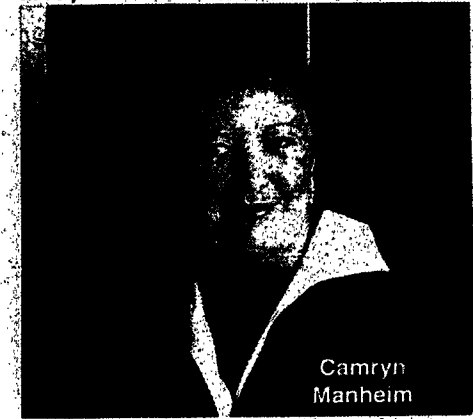

The Practice

He maintains he isn't doing it for money or control, but the ever-unpredictable Alan Shore (James Spader) enrages Eugene (Steve Harris) nevertheless by filing a lawsuit against the firm in "War of the Roses." Ellenor (Camryn Manheim) tries to broker an out-of-court peace between the parties, but even she comes away not knowing quite what to make of Shore.

9 p.m. on 19-PBS

Mystery!

The timing is highly suspect in the death of a noted scientist, who was slated to give a hot-button speech on the environment moments later, in the Inspector Morse story "The Infernal Serpent." Morse and Lewis (John Thaw, Kevin Whately) ultimately focus their probe on a clan of academics with a decidedly checkered history. The tale was directed by John Madden ("Shakespeare in Love").

U.S. Open Tennis

Two weeks of hard-court tennis get under way today in Flushing Meadows, N.Y., in the U.S. Open. The year's final Grand Slam annually attracts the top stars, and this year is no different. Defending champion Andy Roddick headlines the men's side, which also includes top-ranked Roger Federer and old pro Andre Agassi. The women's bracket features world No. 1 and reigning U.S. Open champ Justine Henin-Hardenne, and Venus and Serena Williams.

The Complex: Malibu

The "Extreme Makeover" notion gets an extreme workout as this unscripted series debuts with a two-hour episode. Eight couples — one being Nicole and Steve — renovate separate units of a Malibu, Calif., apartment building as real-estate experts judge who has fared best ... and eliminate those who haven't. At the end of the series, the units will be auctioned publicly, with the highest-profiting couple getting all the money.

7 p.m. on 38-WB

7th Heaven

The first half of "Little White Lies" brings back two former members of the Camden household: Matt (Barry Watson) seeks advice from his parents (Stephen Collins, Catherine Hicks) when his marriage founders. En route, he runs into his ex-girlfriend Heather (guest star Andrea Ferrell). Simon (David Gallagher) also returns, putting a dent in Cecilia's (Ashlee Simpson) romance with Martin (Tyler Hoechlin).

7 p.m. on 6-NBC

Fear Factor

One gross — er, good — turn deserves another for five couples who appeared on this show last season. They return in the fifth-season premiere, and the challenges they're put through by host Joe Rogan aren't any easier than they were the first time. Example: One partner walks a beam 10 stories above the ground to retrieve a key that is passed to the other partner, who rides a jet ski off the top of a parking garage.

Republican National Convention

The Democrats had their big conclave last month in Boston; now it's the Republicans' turn, as they converge at Madison Square Garden in New York to confirm George W. Bush's nomination for another term as president of the United States. Jim Lehrer and the "NewsHour" team preside over coverage, which continues nightly through Thursday, for public-TV viewers; other networks also will cover the event.

6 p.m. on ESPN2

Hockey

The World Cup of Hockey is only a day old, but the intensity will be at a championship-game level when the United States meets Canada in Montreal. Mike Modano and the Americans won the inaugural World Cup in 1996 by beating Canada in the final, while the Canadians sport much the same roster — including legend Mario Lemieux — that won Olympic gold in 2002. Other countries competing are the Czech Republic, Finland, Germany, Russia, Slovakia and Sweden.

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Trading Spouses: Meet Your New Mommy

Though the title invokes the female gender, this new episode actually is a case of "Trading Spouses: Meet Your New Daddy." Two families switch the male heads of their households this time, with metropolitan lawyer Justin Levine leaving New York for a taste of life with a Georgia farm family whose patriarch, James "Jay" Cooke, struggles to adapt to Levine's typically fast pace. Part 2 follows immediately.

7 p.m. on 38-WB

Gilmore Girls

Luke (Scott Patterson) has a revelation about his love life, thanks to a self-help tape, in "Luke Can See Her Face." Upon learning his sister (guest star Chloe Wilhoite) is getting married, Luke seeks out Jess (Milo Ventimiglia) and implores him to attend the wedding. Lorelai (Lauren Graham) stresses over the Dragonfly Inn's imminent opening, and gives Rory (Alexis Bledel) news about Dean (Jared Padalecki).

7 p.m. on AMC

Movie: The War of the Worlds

Based on the novel by H.G. Wells, this 1953 science-fiction movie followed the famous radio scare. When Martians invade Earth, humans bring out the big guns — but it seems as if nothing can stop the enemy. It may take something a wee bit smaller to save the world. Gene Barry, Ann Robinson, Lewis Martin and Les Tremayne co-star.

7 p.m. on BRAV

Backspin

In this new episode, it's Mel Gibson's turn to have his story told in reverse. There's plenty to consider as the hour begins, given the big profits and big controversy that resulted from the Gibson-directed movie "The Passion of the Christ" earlier this year. The program then backtracks to Gibson's successes in movies such as the Oscar-winning "Braveheart" and the "Lethal Weapon" adventures.

8 p.m. on 26-

ABC on 13-ABC

According to Jim

Viva, Las Vegas! The whole family goes to the gambling mecca in the hour-long episode "Vegas, Baby," and Cheryl (Courtney Thorne-Smith) has more of an agenda than just having fun. She wants to use the excursion to bring Jim (Jim Belushi) back together with the sister (guest star Jennifer Coolidge, "A Cinderella Story") he hasn't contacted in years. One of the reigning stars of Vegas, Wayne Newton, also appears.

8 p.m. on

38-WB

One Tree Hill

Lucas and Nathan (Chad Michael Murray, James Lafferty) are stranded together when their behavior gets them tossed off the team bus in "Every Night Is Another Story." They find danger when they encounter troublemakers who have a gun, Karen and Keith (Moir Kelly, Craig Sheffer) aren't happy to be seated with Dan and Deb (Paul Johansson, Barbara Alyn Woods) at a business event.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Father of the Pride

In the works before magician Roy Horn's too-close encounter with a tiger on a Las Vegas stage, this computer-animated series involves Horn and his professional partner, Siegfried (voices of Dave Herman and Julian Holloway). The premiere episode — "What's Black and White and Depressed All Over?" — also showcases the other main characters: white lions voiced by John Goodman, Carl Reiner and Cheryl Hines ("Curb Your Enthusiasm").

Wednesday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Renovate My Family

Concern for others evidently runs in the family for Dr. Phil McGraw, since his son — author Jay McGraw — watches over families who apparently need counseling in this new unscripted series, which normally will air each Tuesday and Thursday. In the premiere episode, the Biggins clan from "Trading Spouses": Meet Your New Mommy receives life tips from makeover professionals. Whether the relatives are ready to receive the messages is another matter.

7 p.m. on 4-CBS

5th Annual Latin Grammy Awards

Stars of Latin music gather again for their own Grammy Awards ceremony, staged this year at the Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles. George Lopez returns as host, deploying his traditional humor to guide the on-site and at-home audiences through an array of performances. Alejandro Sanz, Maria Rita and Bebo Valdes have four nominations each; others in the running include Cafe Tacuba, Diego el Cigala, Javier Limon and Pepe Loeches.

7 p.m. on 38-WB

Smallville

Former movie "Superman" Christopher Reeve reprises his earlier guest role in "Legacy." His character, Dr. Swann, is sought out by Lionel

7 p.m. on 6-NBC

Hawaii

"Hawaii Five-O" and "Magnum, P.I." used exotic settings for long runs, so those behind this filmed-on-location action series undoubtedly hope the same sort of ratings lightning will strike again. The premiere episode, "Hawaiian Justice," introduces Ivan Sergei ("Crossing Jordan") and Eric Balfour as police-detective partners whose Honolulu division gets a new member (Sharif Atkins, "ER"). Michael Biehn also stars.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

The Drew Carey Show

Drew (Carey) is stunned to learn that his brother, Steve (guest star John Carroll Lynch), has returned to Ohio — without telling anyone, including estranged wife Mimi (Kathy Kinney) — in the new episode "Love, Sri Lankan Style." Drew wants to get the couple back together, but the presence of Steve's new girlfriend (guest star Purva Bedi) doesn't help. Another episode follows.

8 p.m. and DSC

Iceland Tunnels

A particularly grueling construction effort is showcased in this new documentary, as underground workers tunnel their way through solid rock to establish a 45-mile-long tunnel system south of the Arctic Circle. Their aim is to provide a new electrical source by making use of the region's ice — but the interior conditions and the outside environment constantly threaten to wreak havoc on the men and the project.

8 p.m. on HALL

Movie: Ferris Bueller's Day Off

Matthew Broderick stars as Ferris Bueller, one of film's most engaging young narcissists, in this John Hughes comedy that defined the ethos of the '80s.

8 p.m. on TNN

Movie: A View to a Kill

Roger Moore bade farewell to the role of 007 with this 1985 adventure. The agent's quarry here is wealthy, zeppelin-flying megalomaniac Max Zorin (Christopher Walken), who plans to corner the world's microchip market by targeting Silicon Valley for a man-made disaster.

9 p.m. on TNT

Movie: The Goodbye Girl

The original 1977 screen version of Neil Simon's comedy earned an Oscar for Richard Dreyfuss, whose role is assumed by Jeff Daniels ("Dumb and Dumber") in this 2004 remake. Subtlety complications force a struggling actor to share a relatively small New York apartment with a single mother (Patricia Heaton) — who doesn't much care for actors — and her precocious daughter (Hallie Kate Eisenberg).

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Movie: Bait

Jamie Foxx ("Collateral") fills the title position in this 2000 action-comedy movie that doesn't stint on violence ... at least in its original theatrical version. A small-time thief (Foxx) is forced by a U.S. Treasury agent (David Morse) to help catch a security hacker who committed the cyber-theft of a fortune in gold. Doug Hutchison co-stars.

7 p.m. and TBS

Movie: Bad Boys

Two mismatched Miami cops — one footloose and cocky, the other a hen-pecked family man — must switch identities to get the cooperation of the sole witness to a murder and reclaim a consignment of drugs stolen right from under their precinct's "nose." Martin Lawrence, Will Smith and Tea Leoni star in this 1995 action-comedy movie.

7:30 p.m. on 38-WB

Reba

Fearing Brock (Christopher Rich) is being unfaithful, Barbara Jean (Melissa Peterman) seeks advice from Reba (Reba McEntire) in "Happy Pills." Both women are shocked to learn the truth behind Brock's behavior. Kyra (Scarlett Pomeroy) isn't enthused about Cheyenne and Van's (JoAnna Garcia, Steve Howey) willingness to escort her and her boyfriend on a date.

persuades her to sing at Karen's (Megan Mullally) Las Vegas wedding to Lyle (guest star John Cleeese).

7:30 p.m. on 6-NBC

Will & Grace

The hour-long episode "I Do, Oh, No, You Di-in't" features Jennifer Lopez as herself. Rosario (Shelley Morrison)

8 p.m. on HALL

Movie: The Long Way Home

Oscar-winning actor Jack Lemmon made a TV appearance in this 1998 drama, playing a senior citizen who receives a letter from a former flame (Betty Garrett). It inspires him to embark on a hitchhiking trek to visit her.

PGA Golf

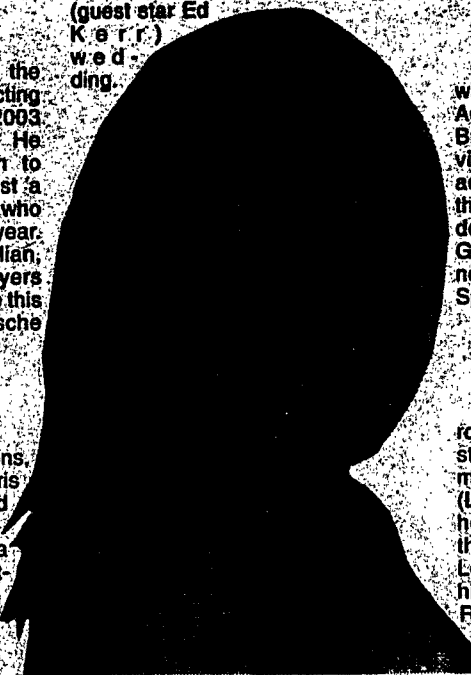

Adam Scott proved worthy of the many kudos his game was attracting by winning the inaugural 2003 Deutsche Bank Championship. He returns to the TPC of Boston to defend his first-ever title against a field that includes Tiger Woods, who finished tied for seventh last year. Scott, a 24-year-old Australian, added the prestigious Players Championship title to his resume this season. The four-day Deutsche Bank concludes on Labor Day.

7 p.m. on 38-WB

What I Like About You

Tense over a variety of situations including her possible trip to Paris and her feelings for Vince and Henry (Nick Zano, Michael McMillan), Holly (Amanda Bynes) stages an event to counter the school prom in "The Anti-Prom." Val (Jennies Garth) can't understand why she has been invited to her ex-boyfriend's (guest star Ed KERRY) wedding.

7:30 p.m. on 26-ABC

8 Simple Rules

Cate (Katey Sagal) has to meet with the school principal (guest star Adam Arkin, "Chicago Hope") over Bridget's (Kaley Cuoco) dress-code violation in "The Principal." The administrator remembers Cate from their school days together, but she doesn't recall him at all. Jim (James Garner) resists complimenting his new massage therapist, C.J. (David Spade).

7:30 p.m. on 38-WB

Grounded for Life

Adam Brody moonlights from his role as Seth on "The O.C." to guest star as Brad's (Bret Harrison) new manager at work in "Get a Job." Lily (Lynsey Bartilson) is upset to learn how badly Brad is being treated on the job. Sean and Eddie (Donal Logue, Kevin Fitzgerald Corrigan) hire their father (guest star Richard Riehle), then quickly come to regret it. Kristin Dattilo ("The Chris Isaak Show") also guest stars.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC

Hope & Faith

Daytime drama stars abound in Part 1 of "Daytime Emmys." Faith (Kelly Ripa) is reunited with her former co-stars on "The Sacred and the Sinful" when they become award nominees. At the ceremony, the serial's leading lady (guest star Susan Lucci, "All My Children") and producer (guest star Susan Flannery, "The Bold and the Beautiful") tell Faith they want her to come back to the show.

8 p.m. and TNT

Movie: Save the Last Dance

This MTV-produced drama was one of the first big theatrical hits of 2001. Julia Stiles plays an aspiring dancer whose mother is killed on the way to one of her recitals. Transferred to an inner-city school, she finds her place — in terms of both emotions and desired career — by learning hip-hop moves from a sympathetic new peer (Sean Patrick Thomas, "The District").

Saturday Best Bets

12 p.m. and TNT
Movie: Sweet November

First filmed in 1968 with Sandy Dennis and Anthony Newley in the central roles, this drama offers Keanu Reeves and Charlize Theron — who first were teamed in "The Devil's Advocate" — in the 2001 update. Theron plays a woman who takes a different lover each month; Reeves' character is the November candidate. He falls so deeply for her, he wants to stay, but she has a reason for resisting. Jason Isaacs ("The Patriot") co-stars.

5 p.m. on ESPN
College Football

LSU begins defense of its co-national championship at home against Oregon State. But the Tigers will be minus quarterback Matt Mauck, one of the few starters off last season's 13-1 team not returning to the fold. LSU's defense should compensate for his loss, and the unit faces a challenge today in stopping OSU quarterback Derek Anderson. He's coming off a campaign in which he threw for more than 4,000 yards; only the second Pac-10 QB ever to do that.

7 p.m. on AMC
Movie: Carlito's Way

Al Pacino stars in this complex 1993 drama (based on two novels by Edwin Torres) about a Puerto Rican crime czar trying to go straight after his release from prison. Pacino is excellent in the title role, but a virtually unrecognizable Sean Penn steals the show as a sleazy lawyer. Penelope Ann Miller co-stars.

7 p.m. on HBO

Movie: Intolerable Cruelty

Offbeat filmmaking brothers Joel and Ethan Coen ("Fargo") go a bit more commercial with this sly 2003 comedy. George Clooney plays an expert attorney who makes himself the bait for an alluring woman (Catherine Zeta-Jones) with a habit of wedding wealthy men, then taking them to the cleaners in divorce settlements. The two stars look great together ... no surprise.

Geoffrey Rush and Edward Herrmann ("Glimore Girls") also appear.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC
Crossing Jordan

A storm causes a body to wash ashore in "Dead in the Water." The woman is identified as the long-missing daughter of a politician, and Lily (Kathryn Hahn) helps Jordan (Jill Hennessy) determine the circumstances of the death. A plastic surgeon's (guest star Patrick Cassidy) operation on his partner, who died after being snipped and stuck, is probed by Macy and Bug (Miguel Ferrer, Ravi Kapoor).

Kathryn Hahn
